FRANCE AND BRITAIN READY TO STOP ALL TRADE WITH ENEMY

Two Ambassadors Call on Bryan and Inform Him of Move Which Is Allies' Answer to Blockade

WASHINGTON IS SILENT ON NEW DEVELOPMENT

All Ships to and From German Empire Are Subject to Seizure in War of Starvation, Says Asquith

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—France and Great Britain served notice on the United States today that they would hold themselves at liberty to stop all shipping hereafter to and from Germany.

A communication outlining measures of reprisal on the part of the allies for the submarine warfare on merchant ships conducted by Germany was delivered to Secretary Bryan by the French and British ambassadors, who called personally at the state department together for that purpose.

Secretary Bryan promptly apprised President Wilson of the new move, but declined to make any statement. What the nature of the step is was not disclosed by the ambassadors, who intimated that the state department would make all announcements on the subject.

Since the first report from London that the allies had decided to hold up shipping to and from Germany a notification along that line has been expected here, but officials have refrained from expressing any opinion as to the course of the American government in recognizing the validity of the proposed measures until the text of the declaration to be made had been carefully examined.

Allies Were Never so Confident of Victory, Declares Asquith

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, March 1.—"Germany has driven her opponents to adopt retaliatory measures to prevent commodities of every kind from reaching or leaving Germany," said Premier Asquith in the house of commons today.

The premier declared that the allies would hold themselves free to capture goods wherever there was a presumption that such goods were destined for the use of their enemies or had been sent from hostile countries.

The proposed measures of reprisal, the premier said, would be enforced with strict observance of the dictates of humanity, but the allies did not propose to "allow their efforts to be strangled in a network of judicial niceties." There was no intention, he explained, to confiscate detained ships or cargoes unless they were liable to confiscation under the ordinary conditions of war.

Premier Asquith declared Germany had violated systematically all conventions intended for the mitigation of warfare. She had taken further steps, he said, by organizing "an undersea campaign of piracy and pillage." Germany, he declared, was not blockading and could never blockade English shores.

Referring to what he termed whispers of peace, Mr. Asquith said it was not time to talk of peace; that time they would arrive "only when the great put forces of the allies are in sight of accomplishment."

At no time has the government been more confident than today that the allies ultimately will achieve victory, said he.

American Passenger Runs Danger Zone Unmolested

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 1.—The American liner New York arrived here today from Liverpool after having taken unusual precautions to make known her nationality while passing through the war zone declared by Germany around Great Britain. In addition extraordinary precautions against mines were observed in the great extent of having the life boats swung outward, ready for immediate use if necessary.

Flying the American flag, the New York left her dock in Liverpool shortly after midnight on February 26. Her lights were all lit as she steamed out to sea and some of the passengers said that throughout the war zone she declared by Germany around Great Britain. Her lights were all lit as she steamed out to sea and some of the passengers said that throughout the war zone she declared by Germany around Great Britain flew from almost every mast. The ship remained ablaze with light and with all flags up until safe waters were reached.

Women passengers said it was suggested that perhaps it would be better if they did not go to bed until the vessel was clear of the war zone.

Some stayed up all night.

PARIS, March 1.—The Temps says it learns that Great Britain and the Mediterranean states that they be permitted to use warships as convoys for merchant vessels sailing for English ports has been refused by the British government.

BATTLE IN DARDANELLES SMASHES WHEAT PRICES

May Delivery Drops More Than Five Cents Per Bushel

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, March 1.—Rapid progress of the Anglo-French fleet up the Dardanelles smashed wheat prices today as much as 5 1-2 cents a bushel right at the start. May delivery, which closed Saturday at $1.55 1-2, opened this morning with sales down to $1.48. Simultaneously July dropped 3 3-4 cents to $1.31.

Atlanta Girl Hits N. Y. Reporter With Bottle of Seltzer

Mrs. Stegler, Known Here as Annette Pope, Freed After Arrest--Her Husband Indicted for Passport Fraud

NEW YORK, March 1.—Mrs. Richard P. Stegler, arrested today in a hotel here on a charge of felonious assault made by Arthur Mateiket, reporter for a German newspaper, was discharged later in police court. Had certain evidence been more definite, the magistrate said, he would have been inclined to send her accused to the work house.

Mrs. Stegler is known in Atlanta as Miss Annette Pope and is the daughter of James B. Pope, a policeman.

Almost at the moment of Mrs. Stegler's discharge in police court, the federal grand jury returned an indictment charging her husband with conspiracy against the United States in obtaining an American passport falsely. Stegler is a German naval reservist. Two others were indicted with him, Richard Modden, in whose name the passport was issued, and Gustave Cook, of Hoboken, who, it is charged, participated in obtaining it.

Stegler and his two co-defendants entered tentative pleas of not guilty, and were given until March 10 to change them should they so desire. Application for a reduction of the $15,000 bail was refused.

Mrs. Stegler spent the night in a cell in a police station. Mateiket, who appeared against her, told the court she had attacked him in a bedroom with a seltzer bottle and then had beaten him over the head with a cane. He showed no marks of an encounter.

The testimony brought out that Mateiket and another man had accompanied Mrs. Stegler and another woman to the hotel, that the party had remained in the hotel parlor for some time, and after a while had obtained adjoining rooms, where they remained until 1:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Stegler testified the party remained together during the entire period they were at the hotel, and that the two men had tried to disrobe her. At no time, she testified, were she and Mateiket alone. She characterized the charge against her as "frame up."

The magistrate said he would be inclined to send Mateiket and his male companion to the work house if the testimony concerning their alleged attempts to disrobe Mrs. Stegler were more definite and clear.

Detective Burgess says the woman was fully clothed when he entered the room to make the arrest.

The woman told the police she considered she had been duped. She said a woman friend of hers, Anne Hoffman, [illegible] Mateiket to the room. Mateiket, she said, had promised to introduce her to a [illegible] but it was important to communicate, when they met, her woman friend was accompanied by two other young women. Mateiket invited her into their automobile and later she said they went to the hotel for supper. It was later, when Mateiket, it was stated, began questioning her regarding the passport fraud case that the row occurred.

The two men carried the carefully guarded suit cases with them when they left the police station. The police feared that during the night Mateket several times called a German newspaper in Baltimore.

Annette Pope Says She Is Not Wife of Dottenheim

Friends and relatives in Atlanta declared that there is no doubt that the woman held in New York as Mrs. Richard P. Stegler was formerly Annette Pope, of Atlanta, daughter of James B. Pope, a county policeman, but mystery surrounds her alleged marriage to Harry Dottenheim, now of New York, formerly with the Theatrical club here.

Her brother stated she was married to Dottenheim. The latter, however, has been located in New York, and he interviewed Mrs. Stegler, declaring after the interview that the woman is "not the Annette Pope I married in Atlanta."

Mrs. Stegler declares that the young German now held in the fraudulent passport case is the only man she ever married, and says that she never saw Dottenheim before he called at her apartment on Sunday. The girl's father, however, declares that she was married to Dottenheim.

Annette Pope left Atlanta about six months ago with a woman friend, bound for New York, and it was over her departure she declared that she was going to the metropolis to seek work on the stage.

Boy-Ed's Denial of Charge Is Given State Department

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The German embassy's communication to the state department yesterday regarding the Stegler case, it was learned today, was a copy of the statement Captain Boy-Ed issued shortly after the charge was made by Stegler implicating the naval attache. Captain Boy-Ed acknowledged he knew Stegler and that he tried to help him to get work, but denied emphatically any knowledge of fraud in securing the passport which Stegler possessed.

VIRGINIA WANTS TO GET MRS. WASHINGTON'S WILL

Attorney General Asks Leave to File Suit Against J. P. Morgan

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Attorney General Pollard, of Virginia, today asked the supreme court of the United States for leave to file a suit in behalf of the state against J. P. Morgan to recover Martha Washington's will.

The will, it is alleged, was taken from the Fairfax county, Va., court house during the Civil war, and eventually found its way to the late J. Pierpont Morgan's collections of historical documents. The state of Virginia contends that J. P. Morgan, who inherited the will from his father, has no title to it and that he has refused to return it.

REINS ARE FURTHER TIGHTENED ON CLUBS BY HEAD OF POLICE

Chief Beavers, After Stopping Liquor Sale on Sundays, Says Locker Clubs Must Have Lockers

STRICT LETTER OF LAW MUST BE OBSERVED

Rigid Order Issued on Eve of Election of New Police Board Members, When Chief's Job Is at Stake

Chief of Police J. L. Beavers has followed his order to the force, which caused every club in Atlanta to go "dry" on Sunday by a statement that the clubs "must track the law on week days as well as on Sundays."

"The clubs of Atlanta must be locker clubs in fact as well as name," declared the police chief Monday morning, "and they must comply with the strictest letter of the law. If whiskey is sold in a club it is violating the law. The clubs know the law. They can't plead ignorance of it, and they should so reorganize that they can conduct themselves within the law."

The statement of the police chief comes on the eve of an election of police commissioners by council Monday afternoon.

RESULT IN DOUBT

It has been freely predicted that Chief Beaver's position would be jeopardized if as many as two of the so-called "liberal" candidates for the police board are elected Monday afternoon by council.

The magistrate said he would be inclined to send Mateiket and his male companion to the work house if the testimony concerning their alleged attempts to disrobe Mrs. Stegler were more definite and clear.

Detective Burgess says the woman was fully clothed when he entered the room to make the arrest.

The woman told the police she considered she had been duped. She said a woman friend of hers, Anne Hoffman, [illegible] Mateiket to the room. Mateiket, she said, had promised to introduce her to a [illegible] but it was important to communicate, when they met, her woman friend was accompanied by two other young women. Mateiket invited her into their automobile and later she said they went to the hotel for supper. It was later, when Mateiket, it was stated, began questioning her regarding the passport fraud case that the row occurred.

The two men carried the carefully guarded suit cases with them when they left the police station. The police feared that during the night Mateket several times called a German newspaper in Baltimore.

The editor of Chief Beavers that no intoxicants be sold in the clubs on Sunday was rigidly complied with by all of the eighteen clubs in the city.

Captains of Detectives T. O. Strickland and W. A. Chewning, assigned to make an inspection of the clubs, showed that eight clubs closed their doors entirely Sunday and that no intoxicants were served in the others.

The detectives penned at the bottom of their report on the clubs the following note: "Every one of the clubs seemed pleased at the order to close, and their attaches showed us through all portions of the clubs which were open."

The report shows the two detectives visited all of the eighteen clubs between 11:40 a. m. and 2:10 p. m.

Beer May Be Shipped From Missouri to Kansas

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The supreme court held today that the Kansas state courts had exceeded their authority in enjoining M. Sterneberg from shipping beer from Missouri into Kansas. Justice McReynolds, delivering the decision, laid down these conclusions:

"Beer is a recognized article of commerce. The right to send it from one state to another and the act of doing so are interstate commerce, the regulation whereof has been committed by congress, and a state law which denies such right or substantially interferes with or hampers the same is in conflict with the constitution of the United States.

PASTORS INDORSE REVIVAL AND SIGN ON TABERNACLE

Evangelical Ministers' Association Adopts Emphatic Resolutions Monday

The sign "Get Right With God," and the Chapman-Alexander revival were unanimously indorsed by the Evangelical Ministers' association of Atlanta at its regular monthly meeting Monday morning at the First Baptist church.

The meeting was more widely attended than any held in some time. Over fifty churches were represented, although Dean John R. Atkinson, of St. Philips cathedral, who has offered the revival and the sign, was not among those present.

A committee, composed of Dr. Charles W. Daniel, pastor of the First Baptist church; Dr. Len G. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church; Dr. A. D. Little, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, and Rev. Lindon E. Hood, of the Atlanta Theological seminary, drafted the resolution and Dr. Hood read it to the members. Nothing was said about the sign in the resolution in its first form.

Dr. Daniel then arose and declared that the sign should be mentioned.

"We have indorsed it," he declared, "and we ought to say so."

The resolutions were recommitted and the insertion made. No objection was voiced to any part of the resolution, nor was there any further discussion.

Dr. C. B. Wilmer, rector of St. Luke's church, who is chairman of the resolutions committee, was absent on a trip to New Orleans.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

The resolutions in full are as follows:

"Resolved, That the association desires to invite the attention of the people of Atlanta to the great work of God now going on at the Tabernacle on Peachtree street under the auspices of 100 Evangelical Christian churches of Atlanta, and under the immediate direction of this association.

"That the attention of the Christian people of Atlanta is asked to the fact that Dr. Wilbur Chapman and Charles M. Alexander are known and honored throughout the world as evangelists, and that in the judgment of the general public are regarded as the worthy successors of Moody and Sankey.

"That these brethren were sought by us as our leaders in a great soul-winning campaign, and their methods we ourselves approve, indorse, and use.

"That the sign, 'Get Right With God,' on the front of the Tabernacle, is there by our direction, and expresses scripturally the call of the gospel to every man: 'Be ye reconciled to God.' We rejoice in the response of strong men to its appeal.

"We are especially gratified that such a large proportion of our business men are in full personal and active cooperation with the work in the Tabernacle. We further desire to gratefully recognize the valuable assistance of the press of our city in the full and sympathetic reports of the meetings.

"The meetings are now entering the third week. Their power is being felt all over the city and state. We call upon all who love God and their fellowmen to make the most of this rare opportunity which means so much to our city and the souls of men."

Exhibit Arranged by Buroughs Nature Club Attracting Much Attention at 134 Peachtree Street

"For rent—for a song."

This sign, swung above a queer, small box in front of 134 Peachtree street, has attracted the attention of many an Atlanta householder during the past few days. And if he stopped and stared, he saw inside the window many other small boxes, with the names of schools tacked above them and a big sign over all, "Atlanta Burroughs Nature club."

These are bird boxes made by the children of Atlanta, over 500 in all, and they are on exhibition there under auspices of the club until some time next week, when they will be scattered in trees throughout Atlanta, waiting for the tenants whose only rent is payable daily, by the power of their throats.

A short time ago members of the club visited the schools and lectured on bird life, and the children grew so interested that many Atlanta boys and girls toiled hard over the wood and nails which have resulted in the remarkable exhibit.

Ashby Street school has taken the prize, for the greatest number of birdhouses with 200, and other prizes for the best made boxes have been awarded as follows: Hamilton Hicks, Grant Park school; Bertha Watts, Grant Park school; Evelyn Wade, Ashby Street school; Alma Allen, Lakewood Heights school; Lena Taylor, College Park school; Boyd Taylor, College Park school, and Luther Dodd and Leroy Tidwell, Ashby Street school, whose proudest creation is a long pole topped with a graceful box.

RATE DISCRIMINATION OUT OF ATLANTA IS CHARGED

THE BACKBONE OF WINTER IS NOW ALL BUT BUSTED

Spring Will Be Here in Few Days, Says Weather Man

The weather man gathered his strength Monday and prepared for the annual exception.

"The backbone of winter," he remarked as he dealt out a forecast of frost Monday night and fair weather Tuesday, "isn't busted yet, but it's beginning to crumble. I'll murder it before the week's over."

Such talk, coming on the first day of spring, is optimistic, following as it does the mildest February in the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

"This is the first February in twenty years," declared the O. I. Monday morning, "that it hasn't snowed. Hold on, though—I'm wrong—it did snow downtown Sunday afternoon, a few flakes. But that properly belongs to March. She was coming in like a lion, you see, and she got a running start. So watch out for the lamb to frisk along before she's due."

"Spring," continued the O. I., "is here. The signs are all cluttered around. The low quarters are in the shop windows, the office boy bought him a jew's harp this morning, and three quarters agitated the neighborhood last night with 'Darling I Am Growing Old.' Another sign—I've made you put a lot of bunk in this story—is that the mercury has got to say its mercury went down to 32 degrees Sunday night."

"Checking out, Mr. Winter?" broke in the office clerk. "See you next fall. Boy, page that Spring girl again."

AMERICAN RESERVE OF 300,000 MEN PLANNED

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Secretary Garrison said today he was uninformed of the proposed formation of an American reserve legion of 300,000 men, as suggested in New York last night, except by news dispatches, but he would look into it at once and meanwhile would not discuss it.

Announcements of the plan was made by Captain Gordon Johnston, aid-de-camp to Major General Leonard Wood, commanding the eastern department of the army, and it was said to have the unofficial indorsement of General Wood and other army and navy officers.

JUDGE JAMES R. BROWN NEAR DEATH AT CANTON

CANTON, Ga., March 1.—Judge James R. Brown, prominent lawyer and financier, former judge of the Blue Ridge circuit, and brother of Joseph E. RUMANIA RESERVES ARE CALLED TO THE COLORS

Allied Fleet Continues Progress in Dardanelles--Russians Are Driving Germans and Austrians Back

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—A new effort to push back the German line in France apparently is underway in the Champagne region and although no definite results have been achieved, a battle of considerable importance is developing. Attacks of the allies along this section of the front have been proceeding tentatively for several days, but the communication from the German war office today indicates that an assault in force has now been launched.

It is said that at least two army corps of French were engaged and that they were repulsed after fierce fighting at close quarters.

In the Argonne, Berlin reports, the French made five efforts to break through the German positions, being thrust back in each instance. The French statement asserts that the allies made slight progress in the Vosges.

RUMANIA READY.

The Rumanian minister of interior [illegible] the statement that a representative of his country has made a formal agreement with Great Britain, France and Russia for entering the war with them. In April, Bucharest advices say that ten classes of Rumanian reserves have been called out for March 12. It has been expected that should Rumania enter the war she would do so in the hope of enlarging her territory at the expense of Austria, and with the particular object of obtaining Transylvania, which is populated largely by Rumanians.

A semi-official statement from Petrograd says that in northern Poland the German lines are being pushed back steadily. The fighting is severe in sections of villages passing from one side to the other, but appreciable progress each day is claimed for the Russians.

In eastern Galicia, at the other extreme of the Russian front the Austrians are reported to be making a stand over the Turkish forts reduced by the sea forces of the allies.

While it would appear that the allied fleet has reached Chanak, fifteen miles from the Mediterranean entrance to the straits, the British press warns the public not to expect the immediate fall of Constantinople.

Nevertheless, the operations of the British and French warships against the sea defenses of Constantinople are creating a tremendous ferment in the nearest. Broussa, in Asiatic Turkey, has been selected by the Turks as their new capital in case it becomes necessary to evacuate Constantinople.

Interest in the fighting along the eastern battle front has been deflected for the moment fro mthe Carpathians to north Poland, where the Russians appear to be making a desperate effort to regain the ground Field Marshal von Hindenburg won when he threw them back into East Prussia. Heavy artillery struggle continues on the line from the Bobr to the Narew, where Grand Duke Nicholas has yet to establish his ascendency.

Vienna reports a violent engagement in Bukowina without saying anything about the outcome. Petrograd claims to have checked the Austro-German advance in this region.

In the west interest centers on the Champagne district, where fierce attack and counter attack have marked operations of the last week. Berlin claims to have repulsed the continued French advances in that region while Paris asserts the French troops have been successful in making progress and repulsing the German counter attacks.

Paris claims also the capture of 2,000 yards of trenches northwest and north of Beauseljour.

Practically all discussion of the diplomatic situation has been suspended in the expectation of the statement Premier Asquith is to make in parliament this afternoon on the steps the allies

NEW GRAND JURORS ARE WARNED NOT TO TALK

Testimony of Witnesses Must Not Be Divulged, Says Judge Hill

Judge Ben H. Hill, of Fulton superior court, in swearing in the March term grand jury Monday morning, called their particular attention to the portion of the oath relating to the secrecy of grand jury matters and cautioned them particularly against divulging the testimony of witnesses.

The Judge said he made this statement because the grand jury oath had recently been misconstrued by a member of the grand jury, not intentionally, he thought, but misconstrued nevertheless, and he wanted to guard against a recurrence of such a misconstruction.

Although Judge Hill did not mention the name of the grand juror in question, it was generally understood in the court room that he had reference to I. N. Hirsch, a member of the grand jury which returned indictments against Dan S. Lehon, C. C. Tedder and Arthur Thurman for subornation of perjury in the Frank case.

"I want to remind you," said Judge Hill to the jury, "that your deliberations and contemplated action are to be kept inviolately secret. No grand juror should divulge the testimony of a witness, the language of the solicitor, or the language of any fellow juror.

"I make this statement because the grand juror's oath has recently been misconstrued by a member of the grand jury. Not intentionally, I am sure, but misconstrued nevertheless. He divulged the testimony of certain witnesses to the attorneys for the defendants who were indicted. His interpretation of the oath, as he stated, was that it did not apply to the testimony of witnesses before the grand jury.

VIOLATIONS OF OATH.

"This court is strongly of the opinion that the testimony of a witness cannot be divulged any more than the advice and counsel of the solicitor or the opinions of the other members of the jury as expressed by them in the jury room. To divulge the testimony of a witness is a violation of your oath. In the case I refer to, the oath was violated, not intentionally, but violated just the same. What transpires in the jury room is sacred, and is not to be divulged except as a sworn witness in open court. The court took no action in the case referred to because he did not believe it was a wilful or intentional violation of the oath. But the court wishes to stress upon you the strict interpretation of the oath in order that you may be clear in your understanding of it."

In the case of Mr. Hirsch, he was a member of the grand jury which returned true bills against Lehon, Tedder and Thurman on the charge of subornation of perjury, and he divulged to Attorney Arthur G. Powell, leading counsel for the defendants, certain information as to the testimony of C. B. Ragsdale and R. L. Barber before the jury, which information the attorneys for the defense presented to the trial jury for the purpose of showing that the grand jury was not impressed with the strength of the case against Lehon, Tedder and Thurman, and only returned true bills to satisfy Solicitor Dorsey.

READING OF OATH.

Mr. Hirsch, when put on the stand as a witness for the defense, and when scored by Solicitor Dorsey on cross-examination for what the solicitor insisted was a violation of his oath, replied to the solicitor by saying he conferred with his own attorneys as to the interpretation of the oath and was satisfied it did not apply to the testimony of witnesses.

The portion of the oath in question reads as follows:

"The state's counsel, your fellows (counsel) and your own, you shall keep secret."

Mr. Hirsch in his testimony in the Lehon trial contended that this language made no mention of the testimony of witnesses.

WOMEN AROUSE INTEREST IN EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

Committee in Charge of the Movement Makes Substantial Progress

The committee of Atlanta women who are endeavoring to raise money to open an employment bureau for Atlanta women out of work are making substantial progress.

Mrs. Beaumont Davison, chairman of the committee, stated Monday that one subscription of $100 and several subscriptions of $10 each have already been received.

The sum they want is $1,000. This will open the bureau and get the work started, and after that the bureau is expected to support itself, or nearly so.

Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock a meeting will be held in Carnegie library to launch an active canvass for raising the balance of the needed amount, and to this meeting all women who are willing to help the good cause are invited to come. The plan of campaign is to secure 1,000 subscriptions of $1 each.

The bureau, Mrs. Davison states, will largely be devoted to sewing. The committee has made arrangements to purchase materials at factory cost with freight charges paid to Atlanta. Women out of work will be given sewing at the bureau and paid for their services. The garments will be sold and the proceeds turned back into the bureau to buy more materials and pay for more sewing. Families with sewing to be done can give their orders to the bureau and have them filled to measure, just as a tailor cuts and makes clothes to measure.

When the bureau is well under way it is expected that its work and usefulness will develop rapidly, and the cordial responses already received from people asked to aid in its establishment encourage Mrs. Davison and her committee to believe they will in a very few days have in hand the amount they need.

GET-TOGETHER MEET AT DECATUR MAR. 8

A rousing Get-Together meeting of the citizens of Decatur and Oakhurst, the new fourth ward of Decatur, will be held in the courthouse at Decatur, Monday night, March 8, under the auspices of the Decatur board of trade.

The program will be in the nature of an official, but informal welcoming of the new citizens of Decatur, where the interests of both will be interestingly discussed. Sandwiches and cigars will be served and the meeting will be for the purpose of better acquaintanship.

Interesting talks will be made by citizens of Decatur and Oakhurst. The program of the meeting will be announced later.

AUTOMOBILE LICENSE LAW IS BACKED BY THE COURTS

Secretary of State Cites Decision for Benefit of Those Who Question It

For the benefit of a number of automobile owners in various sections of the state who have written him questioning the constitutionality of the Georgia law which requires motor-propelled vehicles to be registered with the secretary of state, that new numbers be taken out each year, and that these numbers shall cost $5 each, Secretary of State Philip Cook Monday morning cited a decision by the United States supreme court which holds that the individual states have authority to prescribe regulations for the operation of automobiles.

Not only have a number of individual owners of automobiles questioned the constitutionality of the state law, but it has been indirectly brought to the attention of the secretary of state that automobile owners in Savannah and Americus do not believe the law a valid one.

In fact, information has reached the secretary of state that the Automobile Club of Americus proposes to test the constitutionality of the law in the courts in the event any one of its members is prosecuted for not having registered his machine. No organized resistance is reported from Savannah, but the fact that of more than 1,500 automobiles in Savannah and Chatham county only about twenty have registered, leads Secretary Cook to give credence to the reports of opposition to the law which have reached him indirectly.

In Americus and Sumter county there are 600 machines, says the secretary, and only about fifteen have registered. Secretary Cook says that as far as he can do so he will insist to county commissioners that they see to the enforcement of the law in their counties.

DECISION IS CITED.

Concerning the constitutionality of the state law Secretary Cook called attention to the decision of the United States supreme court in the case of John T. Hendricks vs. the state of Maryland. Hendricks contended the Maryland automobile law, which is almost identical with that of Georgia, was unconstitutional. He failed to register his machine and take out a number for it. The lower courts fined him $15. He appealed to the state supreme court, which sustained the lower court, and he then took his case to the United States supreme court, which held as follows:

"The necessity of motor vehicles over the highways is attended by constint and serious danger to the public, and is also abnormally destructive to the highway itself. In the absence of national legislation covering the subject a state may rightfully prescribe regulations necessary for public safety and order in respect to the operation upon its highways of all motor vehicles, those moving in interstate commerce as well as others."

Justice McReynolds wrote this decision, and all the other justices concurred in it.

Thousands of applications for automobile license numbers were received at the office of the secretary of state Monday. The office force is behind at least a week in sending out numbers. All 1914 license numbers expired Sunday and persons who operate machines without obtaining new numbers are subject to prosecution in the state courts.

"Russian troops should be credited with the initiative of the offensive movement north of Grodno.

"Prisoners and artillery captured by the Russians north of Grodno are from the best corps of the German armies now in the east.

"Russian progress in the region of Przasnysz has been notable. We have captured one village after another, taking several hundred prisoners in each place.

"In other sections the Germans are delivering counter attacks, bringing fresh troops into action and certain villages passing from the possession of one side or the other. Nevertheless our front advances measurably each day."

Germans Driven Back Across Niemen River, Petrograd Says

(By Associated Press.)

PETROGRAD, March 1.—(Via London.)—Highest importance is attached by Russian military authorities to the German defeat at Prasnysz.

Staff officers declare the Germans' hope of success during their operations of the last fortnight along the northern front was based on their confidence in breaking the Russian line at Prasnysz. This attempt which was an important part of the German plan for a gigantic encompassing movement extending from Augustowo to eastern Galicia, is declared today to have failed definitely.

The Russians assert that retirement of the Germans in the north is more precipitate and disorderly than any previous retreat in this theater of war. They say the Germans in their haste have abandoned large numbers of heavy and light guns, and even have left behind slightly wounded soldiers. This condition of affairs, according to the Russian viewpoint, assumed added significance from the fact that the Germans are said to have employed some of their best troops in this fighting.

The reported German plan for undertaking a siege of Grodno would appear now to be venturesome, with the Russians advancing along the left bank of the river Niemen toward East Prussia and endangering the position of the German flank. The claim is made here that all the German troops which recently crossed the Niemen have been forced back.

Although reports fro moperations in Galicia are incomplete, it would appear the Austrians were making little headway in the attempt to force the Russians to retire from that province.

French Claim Gains on Germans in the Vosges

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, March 1.—(Via London.)—The war office today gave out this statement:

"There is nothing to add to the communication of yesterday evening except that in Champagne the different supporting positions we successively secured now form a continuous chain two kilometers in length to the north and northwest of Perthes, and that in the Vosges our attacks made slight progress at Chapelotte, three kilometers north of Celles."

CONGRESS WORKING HARD TO FINISH ITS BUSINESS

House Nearly Through, but Senate Has Vast Amount of Work to Do

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Congress today entered upon the closing week of the session in a rush to wind up all business before it when a final adjournment is taken Thursday. A large amount of work confronts the senate, but in the house business is pretty well cleaned up.

Both houses began today consideration of conference reports on the big appropriation bills. Awaiting the action of the senate also were the Indian and rivers and harbors appropriation bills and President Wilson's nominees for the federal trade commission. The house devoted itself to consideration of the conference agreement on the ship purchase bill with a view of sending it to the senate before the close of the day's session. The McCumber rural credits bill, hitched on to the agricultural bill as an amendment, is causing the leaders difficulty and may operate to prevent action on other general legislation, including the Philippines, conservation and the ship purchase bills, which President Wilson still hopes to see passed. Efforts were being made in the house agricultural committee today to substitute for the McCumber amendment the farm loans credit bill which is favored by the administration. It was believed that if this were accomplished it would meet the approval of the senate.

President Wilson was keeping in close touch today with congress in the final effort to clean up all pending business before the gavels fall in both houses Thursday, officially ending the sixty-third congress.

PENNSY OFFICER DEFENDS "SPLIT TICKET" RULE

George D. Dixon, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad in charge of traffic, who was in Atlanta Sunday, protested that the new "split ticket" rule adopted by his road was not intended as a hardship on people traveling from New York to Atlanta.

Under the rule, a person buying a ticket from New York to Washington, and then from Washington to Atlanta, must recheck his baggage in Washington, and cannot buy a through Pullman ticket. Mr. Dixon explained that it would be unfair to the road to expect it to give the same service for the reduced split ticket as it would for the full tariff rate, and he pointed out that railroads now needed all the revenue they could legally get.

Wilson Sees Paintings

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—President Wilson spent several hours viewing an exhibition of water color paintings at the Corcoran Art Gallery here. After a visit recently to an exhibition of oil paintings at the same gallery, he bought several canvasses.

NEW LINE IS PLANNED BY SOUTH GEORGIA ROAD

A. W. & N. to Build Extension 185 Miles and Branch 40 Miles Long

Construction of an extension 185 miles in length and a branch line forty miles in length is planned by the Atlantic, Waycross and Northern Railway company, which Monday morning filed an application with Secretary of State Philip Cook for an amendment to its charter which would authorize the proposed new lines.

In this application, filed by the company's counsel, Wilson, Bennett & Lambdin, of Waycross, it is stated that the proposed extension is to run in a general northwesterly direction from Kingsland, in Camden county, through the counties of Camden, Charlton, Pierce, Ware, Coffee, Irwin, Ben Hill, Wilcox, Pulaski, Dooly and Houston, to Fort Valley, in Houston county.

The proposed branch line is to run in a southwesterly direction from the main line at a point near the county line of Camden and Charlton counties, thcough Folkston and St. George, in Charlton county, to a point on the Florida line.

Various Forms Of Headache
"It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the causes which produce the affection" says Dr. J. W. Ray of Jonesboro, Ala. Continuing, he says: "Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and it is much better that headache is to be treated according to the cause rule. We particularly particular to give a remedy intended to counteract the cause which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain until the cause of the trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose Anti-kamnia Tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. Get tablets ever? one to three hours give comfort and relief. In the severe cases of periodical neuralgia and particularly the headaches of women."
When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of sick headache, we should caution him to keep his bowels regular, for when nothing is better than "Actoids", and when he feels the least sign of an oncoming attack, he should take two A-K Tablets. Such patients should always be instructed to carry a few Anti-kamnia Tablets, so as to have them ready for instant use. These tablets are prompt in action, and can be depended on to produce relief in a very few minutes. Ask for A-K Tablets.
Anti-kamnia Tablets can be obtained at all druggists.

DR. ATKINSON SCORED FOR "JOINING FORCES OF EVIL"

Dr. J. L. White Raps Dean for Views on Revival and Forward Movement

The religious controversy precipitated by Dean John E. Atkinson's sensational address to the Ad Men last Thursday was supplied with new fuel from three sources Sunday.

The dean himself, in a sermon at the Savoy theater Sunday evening, called upon the men of Atlanta to be governed by their own consciences instead of taking dictation from a "moral master."

Dr. J. L. White, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle, in his sermon Sunday morning scored Dean Atkinson for "aligning with the forces of evil."

Dr. Marion McH. Hull, chairman of the local committee in charge of the Chapman-Alexander revival, asked an audience of 5,000 people at the revival Sunday night to say, by rising, whether they approve the methods of Dr. Chapman and Mr. Alexander, and practically everybody in the tabernacle stood up.

Dr. Atkinson's sermon at the Savoy was delivered to a packed house and several hundred were turned away for lack of seats. Paraphrasing the "Get Right With God" billboard in front of the Chapman-Alexander tabernacle, Dr. Atkinson took for his subject the words, "Get Right About God."

WILL PREACH, NOT ARGUE.

At the outset of his sermon Dr. Atkinson said he would be glad to preach at the Chapman-Alexander tabernacle if invited by Dr. Chapman. But he stressed the point that he would go there to preach and not to argue.

Outlining the thought suggested by his subject, Dr. Atkinson indicated that his conception of God is fundamentally different from what he understands to be the conception of God presented in the revival sermons of Dr. Chapman.

"I do not believe in a ferocious, bigoted, violent God," he said. "Before you begin your relations with God, get right about Him. Learn that God is love. Learn that He made the world not because He hated it but because He loved it. Nothing is created to be destroyed.

"Be brave, men. Don't be afraid to look the devil in the face and tell him to go to hell. Don't let somebody who claims to be your moral master tell you what to do. Act according to your own conscience. Have the moral courage to act upon your own initiative instead of asking somebody to act for you."

Dr. White, at the tabernacle, took for the text of his morning sermon the words of Isaiah, "Woe unto them that call evil good and good evil; that put darkness for light and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter."

He said the motive of Dean Atkinson in criticising the Chapman-Alexander revival and the Men and Religion Forward movement is hard to unravel; that his alignment with the forces of evil is surprising; that he ought not to be taken seriously.

DANCE HALL'S HISTORY.

"The history of the public dance hall," said Dr. White, "is too well known to allow of advocacy by people who love virtue and pure womanhood. Dean Atkinson in advocating such an establishment was suffering from some mental aberration.

"Dr. Chapman, whose methods the dean attacks, is a world figure, the greatest and most beloved of all evangelists. He is an educated Christian gentleman, a strong and tender-hearted man. But he believes in the old-fashioned religion, in the power of personal experience; whereas the dean's conception of God is simply a theory, a mental attitude.

"The dean's criticism of the Men and Religion bulletins is an effort to destroy the greatest agency for good Atlanta has ever had. The party or parties who seek to suppress the utterances of the Men and Religion committee ally themselves with the forces that want an open town."

Dr. White also paid his respects to Chief Beavers, hailing him as "the hero of the great moral battle which has been waking in Atlanta for two years."

The indorsement of the Chapman-Alexander revival followed a short address delay night at the tabernacle by Dr. Hull.

"The committee feels grieved that criticism has been expressed against this revival," he said, mounting the rostrum. "We believe Dr. Chapman is using the right methods of winning souls, and we would like for everyone here who feels like indorsing Dr. Chapman to stand up."

Practically the entire audience rose.

REGRETS CONTROVERSY.

Dr. Chapman touched on the controversy before beginning his sermon at the revival service Sunday night. He said:

"I cannot express how sincerely I regret that there should be going on in one of the theaters this evening a service in which the subject as appearing in the newspapers is suggested by the sign outside of our meeting 'Get Right With God.' The right to hold such a service under ordinary circumstances I would not for a moment question, indeed, I should heartily advocate it now if the subject were not suggestive to contention.

"I have every reason to believe from my correspondence and from conversation that a service this held will be looked upon as being held in opposition to our meeting however kindly the speaker may refer to us or to our work.

"When we were in Bendigo, Australia, the bishop of Bendigo was our chairman. When we were in Swansea, Wales, the vicar of Swansea was also our chairman. My message and methods are the same today as then. When we were in Minneapolis holding meeting Bishop Edsall, of the Episcopal church, invited me to preach in the pro-cathedral and was present himself to welcome me. When we were in Richmond, Va., our services were held in St. Paul's Episcopal church daily and the rector of the church, who died not long ago, was constantly by my side. This is the first time in all my experience as an evangelist when there has been even an unintentional injury done my work by anyone associated with this great church. These times are so very trying and the necessity for Christian work so very great that anything which diverts the harmonious attention of the people from the meetings is harmful and greatly to be deprecated.

"I sincerely hope that the methods we use in the Tabernacle may commend themselves to thoughtful Christian people, and I would gladly welcome from anyone any suggestion as to how our work may be made stronger and better."

IN LOCAL THEATERS

Much talked about "Hypocrites" will be the attraction this week at the Lyric. The sensational picture will be exhibited daily at matinee at 3 p. m. and at night at 8:30 p. m. All seats reserved, each seat couponed, and 25 cents is the price of the best seat, matinee or evening. Telephone orders will be received and messenger orders will be given prompt attention. There has been a wonderful interest in this picture resulting in an advance sale for a motion picture exhibition, something that has not happened in Atlanta before.

The picture is the work of Lois Weber, produced by the Bosworths. It was given its first exhibition in New York City late in January, before the national board of censorship and a distinguished committee of thirty-five representative New Yorkers. This body gave the picture the only special indorsement ever registered. Fourteen thousand people paid a dollar a seat during the first week at the Longacre in New York and since then the theater has been crowded at every performance.

On Saturday afternoon a committee of Atlanta citizens joined with the local censor board and viewed the picture and pronounced it wonderful.

"Hypocrites" will create a sensation in Atlanta. It is the last word is startling, daring, and it preaches a sermon that has a powerful effect. It is indeed the most wonderful picture that has been put on a screen, and there is little wonder that New York's leading writers have been writing columns of space to its praise.

There is a good combination of vaudeville offered at the Forsyth this week. Harry Cooper, character comedian, will make his first appearance in Atlanta, assisted by Charles Henderson in Cooper's newest success, "The Mail Carrier."

Miss Hermine Shone, who has made herself a popular favorite with Forsyth patrons because she is versatile and original, and has never repeated an old act, will be one of the features supported by an excellent company and presenting Edgar Allan Woolf's one-act comedy, "The Last of the Quakers." Another feature will be the Primrose Four, "1,000 pounds of harmony," one of the best singing quartets in the profession. Marie and Billy Hart in "The Circus Girl" and the Langdons in "A Night on the Boulevard."

The famous Zenda troupe will show some startling mid-air stunts and Lazar and Dale in their black face cabaret will add to the merry making.

There are two leading ladies with George Arliss in his production of Louis N. Parker's comedy, "Disraeli," which will be seen for the first time here for four night engagements at the Atlanta theater beginning Wednesday night.

Ernita Lascelles and Margaret Dale will share honors with the distinguished character actor. Miss Lascelles is said to be the youngest leading woman on the English or American stage, being twenty years old. Miss Dale will be remembered as the leading woman with John Drew and also W. H. Crane. Seats are now on sale for this important engagement.

"A Fool There Was," the play taken from the famous Kipling poem, "The Vampire," and played at the Orpheum by Robert Hilliard and a big company some years ago, is one of the big feature motion pictures of the present time. General Manager Jake Wells arranged with the Fox Film company for the use of the five-reel feature for the Grand and will offer "A Fool There Was" today, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, with the addition of a Mary Pickford special and a Pathe comedy, all for the Grand's regular price, 5 cents for the best seats, 11 a. m. to 11 p. m.

WILLETT AND MAY WILL CONDUCT EISEMAN STORE

New Owners Plan to Make Business One of Largest in South

R. W. Willett and Bernard S. May, of New York City, operators of a chain of twenty-three large clothing stores in various cities of the United States, will shortly take over the stock and store of Eiseman Brothers, Incorporated, at 11 Whitehall street, and will conduct one of the largest clothing businesses in the south.

For several weeks Eiseman Brothers have been holding a sale preparatory to retiring from business. During the last few days they have, through their attorneys, Douglas & Douglas, arranged to sell the remainder of their stock to Messrs. Willett and May, who will also take a lease on the seven-story Eiseman store building.

Eiseman Brothers are now taking an inventory of their stock, and the store will remain closed until this inventory is completed. As soon as possible after the stock-taking the business will be opened by Messrs. Willett and May, who are now in Atlanta looking after the details of the deal. Big stocks of new goods will be added immediately.

It is said that either Mr. Willett or Mr. May will probably locate in Atlanta and give personal attention to the operation of the big store. Mr. May will remain here to look after the opening of the store.

Speaking of their entry into Atlanta Mr. Willett said:

"We intend at first to operate the store as an up-to-date clothing store as it has always been in the past. In a short while, however, it is our plan to add other departments to the business and develop it into one of the big stores of its kind in the south.

It was due to the death of one of the Eiseman brothers and the fact that the other brothers had numerous interests which demanded their attention that the old firm decided to go out of the clothing business in Atlanta, where for many years they had conducted one of the largest and most successful men's clothing and furnishing stores in the south.

B. J. Eiseman, the youngest of the brothers, who has been in charge of the Atlanta store, will continue to live in this city, but will retire from active business. Moses B. Eiseman, another brother, lives in Baltimore; Jacob B. Eiseman lives in Rahway, N. J., and Louis, twin brother of B. J., resides in Washington.

PEACHTREE STREET FIRE AROUSES HOTEL GUESTS

Night Blaze in Store Near Adair and Majestic Subdued With Slight Loss

Responding to an alarm turned in by two "night-hawk" negro hack drivers, the whole downtown fire-fighting force arrived at 207 Peachtree street Monday morning at 2 o'clock in time to put out a fierce blaze in the rear of the Greater Atlanta Confectionery before it did much damage. The Adair hotel, 205 Peachtree, back of the confectionery, was threatened.

A negro hack driver, passing the confectionery, saw a blaze in the rear. He whipped his horse, met another night-hawk at Harris street, and the pair galloped their vehicles to Harris and Ivy, where a policeman was found who turned in the alarm. Walter M. Wilson, a boarder on the third floor of the Adair hotel, also telephoned the fire department.

Men and women in the Adair hotel and in the Majestic hotel next door, awakened by the smoke that swirled in front of their windows and by the noise of the arriving apparatus, came to their windows to watch the fire, which was extinguished in fifteen minutes.

Dionis Fotou, proprietor of the confectionery, stated the blaze was probably caused by crossed electric wires. He estimated the damage at $200. Another fire in almost the same spot in his store, he said, broke out five months ago in the day time, and was extinguished by his soda clerk.

MAN, 81, DIES IN HOUSE IN WHICH HE WAS BORN

Mr. Ira Estes, a prominent citizen of Connally, Ga., died there Sunday afternoon in the same house in which he was born and had lived for eighty-one years, and 100 yards from which is the house in which his wife was born.

Surviving Mr. Estes are his wife and three daughters, Mrs. T. C. Hawkins, Mrs. G. W. Reid and Mrs. T. F. Burks. Funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon from Tanner's church, and interment was in the Estes cemetery, both of which are near the Estes home.

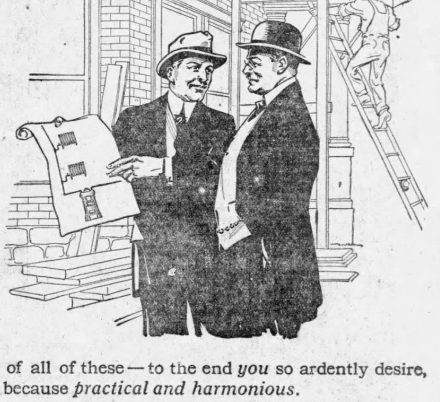
When you build your home

you will have many things to think of, things of which you have heretofore thought vaguely, but of which you must now think definitely and closely. You will be forced to rely upon specialists in the various building trades for advice in selection and arrangement. The mason, the carpenter, the heating contractor, etc., will all be glad to help you and you will need their help, for each is a specialist in his own line and knows things about it which the average man does not know.



Above all, you will need the help of the architect, for he is the Master Specialist of home building. Years of study and years of practice have made him a specialist not only in design and construction, but in the multitude of practical details that enter into every building. He sees them as a complete whole as no other person connected with the building can. Each of the tradesmen can advise you in the problems of his own trade, but the architect can advise you in the intricate correlation of all of these—to the end you so ardently desire, the creation of an artistic home—beautiful because practical and harmonious.

The trained architect sees the home as a whole, complete and occupied. He places the furniture in his mind's eye on the plans. He foresees the effects of decoration and furnishings, and plans for those effects. He foresees the necessities of housekeeping and provides for them. He can with the most modest priced materials obtain for his clients' needs a building most appropriate and with enduring charm. He knows not only what heating is best to use for your building construction and exposure—where the piping can and must go—what kind, size and shape of radiator for each room, hall, etc.,—but where it can best be placed to exert greatest heating efficiency with the most artistic and unobtrusive effect.

The leading feature of any home is comfort

There is one feature of a building which more than any other, all architects now, unitedly and strenuously, strive to have adopted. Every architect knows that no matter how clever the plan, no matter how harmonious or in good taste are the completed structure, trim and decorations, when the days arrive of cutting winds and sudden temperature drops there will be trouble for his client and for him if the heating outfit fails to respond. The finer the furnishings, the greater will be the contrast and emphasis on any lack of heating comfort. Every one of the million outfits of IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators now in use in both Americas, Europe, Australia and Japan is giving topmost satisfaction and the fuel savings have already repaid or are fast repaying the original cost—everyone is a paying-investment, not an expense. Further, each outfit will give ideal results as long as the building endures in which it is placed!

Always consult an architect—even before you buy a lot

When you build your home, your first step—even before you buy your lot—should be to employ the trained architect, for he can help you choose the correct setting for the kind of building you want to erect, as well as to assist you in putting heart into your home by selecting and placing your radiator heating outfit to do best work with the least amount of fuel and care-taking. Ask your architect—ask any architect what heating he would use if he were building his own home. His answer will be: "IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators are the best that money can buy, yet cost no more. They are fully guaranteed." Whether your building is a store, office, school, church, flat, farm or city house, etc., ask to-day for free book: "Ideal Heating," full of big facts you ought to know. Puts you under no obligation to buy.

Ask also for catalog of the stationary, genuine, unfailing ARCO WAND Vacuum Cleaners—at $150 up.

Mrs. Lamar Rucker Writes Interesting Article

The interesting interview with Mrs. Lucien Cocke, of Roanoke, Va., formerly of this city, which appeared in The Atlanta Journal on Sunday was written by Mrs. Lamar Cobb Rucker, of Athens. As Miss Nita Black, Mrs. Rucker contributed a series of sketches to The Journal of the famous old plantation homes of Georgia. The spirit of the old south as illustrated in the formal gardens and quaint surroundings which are still preserved in many of the colonial homes is caught and embodied in these articles with an abiding charm.

Among the homes described and illustrated with photographs taken by the author are the famous Carter plantation near Carters, and Rose Hill, the beautiful Heard home at Elberton. A few more remain to make the series complete and when finished the collection will be issued in book form. Mrs. Rucker has recently contributed several clever and interesting articles to the leading northern magazines which have been read with interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Cocke spent several days of the past week in Athens en route to Cuba and were the recipients of much delightful hospitality during their stay. The fact that Athens has been made the scene of Mrs. Cocke's book which is shortly to be published will lend an added interest to this new novel of southern life.

Neighborhood Teas

The ward teas of the Fulton and DeKalb counties branch were held Monday afternoon at the homes of Mrs. George Speir, on Thirteenth street, and Mrs. Malcolm Turner on Ponce de Leon. The leaders, Mrs. Frank Spain, and Mrs. Frank Fitten talked interestingly about the work which is being done in Atlanta. Mr. Conrad Hibbeler and Mrs. Mitchell, from Portland Ore., also spoke. At Mrs. Turner's tea Miss Marguerite Scruppa and Mr. Paul Johnson rendered charmingly one of the latest dances.

Drama League to Hear Strindberg Plays

The Drama league will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Georgian Terrace. Two plays of the great Swedish genius, August Strindberg, will be read, one an exquisite little prose play, "Easter," will be read by Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin, and the other, one of the most remarkable bits of modern play-writing, "The Stronger," will be read by Mrs. Spiker. The meeting will be of especial interest, as Strindberg is rated by many critics as second only to Ibsen among modern dramatists.

Georgia Rebekah Assembly

Mrs. Ivie Henderson, president Georgia Rebekah Assembly I. O. O. F., of Savannah, was honor guest of the Piedmont Rebekahs Thursday evening and gave a very interesting account of the order in this jurisdiction and encouraged the members to greater effort. Other prominent members were present and made the occasion an interesting one.

Refreshments were served, and the coming session of the assembly in Fitzgerald was discussed.

Smith-Horton

A small group of intimate friends witnessed the wedding ceremony of Mrs. Corinne Stocker Horton and Mr. Chauncey Smith, which was beautifully solemnized Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride on East Eighth street.

Bishop C. K. Nelson read the impressive marriage service and the only attendants were little Miss Garda Horton, as maid of honor, and Mr. J. R. A. Hobson, who served the bridegroom as best man.

The bride entered with Dr. E. L. Connally. She wore a beautiful gown of blue satin, elaborately finished with bands of silver lace and carried a bridal bouquet of white orchids and gardenias fringed with Parma violets. The little maid of honor's frock was of blue silk. Her hair was bound with blue tulle and she carried a shower bouquet of delicate pink roses.

A profusion of spring blossoms adorned the home and following the ceremony a buffet supper was served.

Upon their return from a visit of several weeks in New York, Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside at the Georgian Terrace until the remodeling of their home on Eighth street.

SAYS WIFE IS BIGAMIST IN SUIT FOR ANNULMENT

S. B. Alexander Says Woman Married Him Before Divorcing Fourth Husband

In a suit filed Monday in superior court seeking to annul a marriage entered into July 18, 1912, S. B. Alexander, thirty years old, 55 South Howard street, Kirkwood, alleges that his wife, Mrs. Anna Lois Alexander, wife of a former circus chariot racer, was married to C. C. Boyd at the time of her marriage to him.

Alexander alleges that Mrs. Alexander seemed to have aimed to overcome the marrying record of King Henry the Eighth; he alleges she had been married four times before she married him; of these four previous husbands, he states that the third was divorced, and that the fourth was still her husband at the time of her marriage to him.

Mrs. Alexander, a pretty woman thirty-three years old, vehemently denies that C. C. Boyd, the husband in question, was alive when she married Alexander.

She exhibited a letter from A. L. Boyd, brother of C. C. Boyd, dated June 8, 1912, in which the news of Boyd's death is told to her. Boyd and his brother were chariot racers in the Ringling circus; Boyd, says his wife, was killed in a race at Waycross, Ga., June 6, 1912.

"So he was dead over a month before I married Alexander on July 18," she said Mrs. Alexander. "My marriage was perfectly valid."

Mrs. Alexander admits her first marriage to J. E. Segrist, in 1895. She was then but fifteen years old. She and Segrist were divorced in Birmingham, September 14, 1904.

ADMITS MARRYING MARTIN.

Mrs. Alexander admits marrying H. P. Martin in 1907 in Nashville. Martin, she says, died in April, 1910, and his body lies in Greenwood cemetery.

She says she never married any one by the name of De Martino, but that, eight weeks after Martin's death, she married C. C. Boyd, the circus chariot racer, in Atlanta on June 6, 1910. Boyd, who left her at intervals to go with circuses for months at a time, was killed in a chariot race in Waycross on the second anniversary of his wedding, June 6, 1912.

Six weeks later, Mrs. Alexander married Alexander in Atlanta.

Alexander, in regard to De Martino says: "The said Martin having departed this life, defendant married the said De Martino. On this last mentioned venture, the defendant divorced De Martino, whereupon she deemed it advisable to abandon her given name as well as that of her last husband, and she married C. C. Boyd under the name of Maud.

"On June 14, 1912, under the name of Maud Boyd, she filed a suit for divorce against C. C. Boyd, and before the suit was determined, she married the plaintiff (Alexander)."

Alexander states that his wife's original maiden name was Miss Annie Lois Wilson.

Miss Beatrice Segrist, the pretty daughter of Mrs. Alexander, with blue eyes and golden brown hair, became hysterical when told that Alexander alleged his marriage to her mother was not legal.

"It is a good thing for him I can't see him at this instant," she said, "I'd scratch his eyes out. It's a lie, Boyd was dead when my mother married him, and he knows it."

Hendrix & Silverman are attorneys for Alexander.

MRS. ANNA LOIS ALEXANDER, who is accused by S. B. Alexander of marrying him before divorcing previous husband.

WAR MEANS PROSPERITY FOR U. S., SAYS AUTO MAN

Europe Using More War Goods Than She Can Supply, He Says

Declaring the war in Europe will cause a era of unprecedented prosperity in America because of the needs of the belligerent countries for American goods, Fred S. Fish, president of the Studebaker corporation, manufacturers of automobiles, harness, wagons and buggies, and secretary of the Lamb-Fish lumber company, and officer in a dozen of the largest industries in the country, paid a short visit to Atlanta Monday, en route from Florida to Augusta.

Mr. Fish has recently returned from a trip to London, where he closed an order for $15,000,000 worth of his firm's goods to be shipped the British war office. He will return to London so soon as he deems business conditions demand.

"The products of the mills and factories of Europe and their stock on hand are rapidly being consumed, and consumed faster than they can possibly be supplied. They are nearing their ends now and the only place for them to find other supplies is in the United States. This was evinced during the last months of last year. Following a depression immediately after war started, business began to pick up, and with the end of 1914 we showed an increase of business of $5,000,000. We shall go far beyond that in 1915."

Mr. Fish, while master of many millions, is a young man and is free from prententions of any kinds. Most of his money he has made in the manufacture of automobiles and in lumber operations throughout the Mississippi delta.

PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE IS SUED BY A. J. JOHNSON

Former Councilman Wants $55,935.53 for Alleged Breach of Contract

A. J. Johnson, insurance man and former councilman, filed suit in the superior court Monday against the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company, of Los Angeles, for $55,935.53, alleging a breach of contract.

In the suit, which was filed by Attorneys Daly and Chambers, Mr. Johnson sets out that on November 11, 1912, the insurance company signed a contract with him to pay him a certain percentage on all life insurance business done here, and to give him renewal rights and percentage on accident and health insurance already written to "broker" new business in those lines, and to furnish him an office as long as the company remained in business in Georgia.

About five months later, the suit alleges, just at a time when he was about to make a readjustment of his business and to reorganize it, the company announced that it had cancelled his contract. When he protested, he says, the company revoked the order of cancellation, but later again put it in force.

This action, he alleges, disrupted his plans for reorganization, and caused him such worry and annoyance that he had nervous prostration. This caused him to lose many months' time from his business, he says.

By taking up matters "over his head" with one of the agents, he charges that the company prevented his collecting over $1,300 which that agent owed him.

He accordingly asks for the recovery of that sum, for the recovery of $7,800 which he says he will lose because of the removal of accident renewal contracts; for $10,0000, which he estimates he will lose on the life insurance business; a sum for office rent; $5,000 because of the alleged damage to his health and $25,000 punitive damages, making a total of $55,935.53.

Mr. Johnson alleges that before the contract was signed that he had built up the company's business until it had income through the Atlanta office of $90,000 per year.

MANY GEORGIANS SEEK NEW FEDERAL JUDGESHIP

Applicants Stirred by Report That Place Will Be Filled by Thursday

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The appointment of a new federal judge for the southern district of Georgia is about the liveliest and most important matter that has engaged the attention of the Georgia senators and congressmen for some time. The virtual passage of the bill by the senate Saturday afternoon and the understanding that the president will make the appointment probably before the adjournment of congress Thursday has developed an acute situation, intensified by the decision of the senators to leave the selection of a suitable man to the attorney general.

The president is expected to approve the judgeship bill tomorrow and possibly send to the senate the nomination of the person he selects to fill the new judicial position in the Southern district of Georgia. The bill passed through its final legislative stage this afternoon when the house receded from an unimportant amendment relating to the division of business between Judge Speer and the new judge.

Thomas S. Felder, of Macon; Robert J. Travis, of Savannah; Joseph E. Pottle, of Milledgeville; Z. A. Littlejohn, of Americus, and Wallace W. Lambdin, of Waycross, are either in Washington or en route to the city to present their claims to the department of justice.

Congressman Charles L. Bartlett will probably apply for the judgeship if the appointment is delayed until after March 4 at which time he will become eligible for the position.

Savannah Officially Gives Endorsement to R. J. Travis

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 1.—The city of Savannah today sent an official indorsement to Washington of R. J. Travis, who is a candidate for the new federal judgeship. This is the first time in many years, if ever before, the city has done this.

BOARD ACTED WITHOUT AUTHORITY SAYS MASON

Fight to Abolish Normal Training School Now Seems Certain

Mayor Woodward has received from City Attorney Mayson a written opinion to the effect that the board of education acted without authority when it established the Normal Training school.

While the mayor has said that he will make no further fight on the school until the expiration of the present term, the opinion of the city attorney means that a fight to abolish the institution is then certain.

HEAVY SENTENCE PASSED ON NEGRO BLIND TIGER

Recorder Johnson Monday passed the heaviest sentence given by him since occupying the recorder's bench when he gave Ed Heywood, colored, the choice of paying $100 fine or spending thirty days in the stockade.

Heywood was accused of being a blind tiger. Officer Steve Felder had arrested Will Strong, colored, at 172 Gilmer street, Sunday, with six pints of liquor; but in court it developed that the whisky was Heywood's property.

Judge Johnson has given several thirty day sentences since becoming recorder, but never one where the $100 was also used.

ATLANTA RECORD BEATS RICHMOND AND DALLAS

Of the $22,000,000 of emergency currency issued since last August in the sixth district, which includes the territory of the Atlanta federal reserve bank, only $4,500,000 is still outstanding, according to Governor Joseph A. McCord of the reserve bank, who says that this record beats either Richmond or Dallas.

Mr. McCord also said that of the $7,500,000 of emergency currency issued by the National Currency Association of Georgia, only $1,263,720 had not been retired.

GREER IS BROUGHT BACK TO FACE FORGERY CHARGE

Charged with forging the name of J. A. Reid, his brother-in-law, to a savings bank check for $315 last August, George A. Greer, twenty-two years old, was brought back from Mangum, Okla., Sunday night by Deputy Sheriff George Brodnax.

Greer is being held under bond of $8,000 for trial in the superior court.

STRIKERS IN ENGINEERING PLANT GO BACK TO WORK

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, March 1.—Many of the striking laborers at the Clyde Engineering works resumed work today, in accordance with instructions issued by the government. The strike threatened to interfere seriously with supplying equipment and material for the troops in the field. It is expected confidently all the strikers will be back at work by Wednesday.

PENSION BILL IS SIGNED BY WILSON

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—President Wilson today signed the pension appropriation bill, carrying approximately $164,000,000. It was the first of the large appropriation bills to reach the president.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.— "I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."—Mrs. JOSIE HAM, R. F. D. 1, Box 22, Shamrock, Missouri.

One Who Writes Knowingly of Fashions Says "Crepe de Chine Is the Fabric for Underwear This Season." And Tuesday We Launch

A Brilliant Exposition and Sale of Crepe De Chine Underwear

A brilliant exposition and sale---we use the word advisedly and prove our right to do so.

The whole fashion world is bent on crepe de chine underwear: The problem most stores are having trouble in solving is the getting of adequate quantities to meet the great demand for it. Women want it and stores cannot get it.

That is, most stores.

But here is a statement of a condition and fact that we ask you to take without a grain of salt---

We have effected a connection with a maker which permits us to offer in a sale Tuesday, the daintiest, loveliest crepe de chine underwear

At Savings That Average One-Third

And, mind you, it is of a quality and beauty that women simply must admire.

The quality of the fabric is as fine and soft and luxurious as a woman could wish for---the different garments are fashioned with the daintiness that appeals to women---the trimmings are exquisite laces.

Corset Covers at 79c, 98c, $1.25, $1.45, $1.75 and $1.98
Values $1.00, $1.50, $2.25 and $3.50

What You Will Find---

The crepe de chine is pink and white, and washable.

Corset Covers, many in the new V shape, others with and without sleeves. Trimmings of imitation Duchess, Princess and Valenciennes laces, used lavishly.

Petticoats with flounces of rows of lace insertions, some of the laces are tinted to match the crepe de chine. Rosettes and French ideas in trimmings.

Teddy Bears, trimmed at bottom and at yoke with Valenciennes and imitation Duchess laces; others are severely plain; there are many fashioned Empire style.

Gowns—A truly magnificent variety, and every garment made in full length and width. They show entirely new ideas of trimming—shadow lace insertions form yokes back and front, and there are Empire styles and plain tailored gowns—all at $3.50. At $4.65 are gowns adorned with imitation Duchess laces and imported nets, wide German Val laces in cream and pearl, used with sprays of handmade flowers. At $4.98 gowns trimmed with English filet laces, Van Dyke points of Princess lace, German Vals, and the trimmings are not only in the sleeves and in the front, but also in the back.

In all, the most notable thing of its kind we have ever done—let the spring brides profit.

One dry Sunday, however, doesn't make a dry week.

Why shouldn't the war begin in the spring? They haven't a baseball season over there.

February has gone. Now look for gradually warmer conditions, with hot weather along in June or July.

Coming Cattle Shows.

The exhibitions and sales of high-grade cattle to be conducted at various points in Georgia this spring, beginning at Atlanta on April the fifteenth, should do much to encourage the raising of livestock at a time when that industry is of peculiar importance to Southern agriculture.

Interested in this enterprise are the State Chamber of Commerce, the federal Bureau of Animal Husbandry and a number of livestock agencies such as the National Hereford Cattle Association. By co-operating with these leaders, the commercial and agricultural bodies of Georgia counties can make the forthcoming exhibitions of substantial value to their respective communities.

Always a matter of farreaching importance, animal husbandry is now a vital necessity in Georgia and other cotton States. Our own Commonwealth is spending vast sums of money for imported meat supplies which could be produced easily and cheaply at home. Every movement to remedy this situation merits hearty encouragement.

We shall see shortly whether the college graduate can make good in organized baseball.

The newest peace organization might also include for settlement some of the civil war in Atlanta.

We don't know anything about the Dardanelles, but by all means let them be opened up. The Turks have had them long enough, anyhow.

For Public Safety.

The Public Safety committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has undertaken the very important service of educating the people to a keener sense of the danger in walking on railroad tracks. Every business and civic organization in the State should support this undertaking, to the end that needful laws may be enacted and enforced.

In the United States, from the year 1901 to 1910, more than fifty thousand persons were killed and more than fifty-three thousand were injured as a result of trespassing on railways—an average of nearly twelve thousand casualties a year, or nearly one thousand a month. The idea that most of these deaths or injuries befell tramps is erroneous. A special investigation has shown that of one thousand persons killed on railroad tracks in the course of a year, five hundred and ninety-eight were self-supporting, three hundred and twelve were laborers, two hundred and seventy-three left dependent wives and children; and included in the list were merchants, clergymen, salesmen, teachers, students, chemists, musicians, engineers, farm hands, lumbermen, miners, and men of sundry other trades and professions. It is not merely, or chiefly, shiftless wanderers but also valued citizens who are maimed or killed in the dangerous practice of walking on railroad tracks; and among children, the toll is peculiarly distressing.

That this grievous sacrifice of life can be prevented by adequate, firmly enforced laws is evident when we compare the record of the United States with that of European countries. In England, for example, only five thousand, four hundred and seventy-nine persons were killed and injured on railway tracks during the period in which one hundred and three thousand, four hundred and fifty-two were killed and injured in this country. The amazing difference is due to the fact that in England trespasses upon railroad property are forbidden by law and are consistently punished, while in this country only thirteen States have any such law, and in many of those it is indifferently enforced.

Public welfare demands that this tragic carelessness be checked. The committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce wisely says that the first step to that end should be a campaign of education to arouse the public's thought and conscience. That effected, the needful laws and their enforcement will naturally follow. It is to be hoped that boards of trade, civic organizations and women's clubs throughout Georgia will take up this important work and carry it to success.

A man's temper may improve with disuse.

Blessed is he who keeps his troubles to himself.

It's sometimes easier to settle down than it is to settle up.

Lloyd-George threatens to enforce a little prohibition in England, too. "But it will be moderate," says George, thus assuring the country that it shan't be Russianized at this stage of the game.

No Extra Session.

It now seems that there will be no extra session of congress, and certainly there ought not to be. If the appropriation bills are passed by March the fourth, other measures, important though they are, may well be deferred in order that the country may have a season of needed repose.

The present Congress has been in session almost continuously for two years. It has to its credit the greatest program of useful legislation ever enacted within that length of time. It has readjusted the tariff to interests and rights of the rank and file; it has re-established the banking and currency system on a basis of economic freedom and security; it has transformed the government from an instrument of special privilege to an instrument of public service; it has put down old abuses and released new opportunities; it has redeemed virtually every pledge of the Democratic party. Its record is one with which the country is well satisfied and on which the Administration may well rest its claim for continued support.

The very fact, however, that the last two years have been so crowded with legislative activity and results makes it is especially important that the country now have a period of legislative quiet. Business has not been harmed, but undoubtedly it has been kept in anxiety. Its nerves are on edge. It longs for an interlude of rest, a chance to turn its thought to wholesome commonplaces.

It is to be hoped, therefore, that after March the fourth Congress will go home and stay home at least until next autumn. Should the necessity for an extra session arise before the regular December session, it can be called. In the meantime, the country needs, as President Cleveland once said, "rest and peace and reassurance."

True wisdom never thinks itself wiser than it really is.

The Russians also have better fighting ability on home soil.

Cotton Shipments by the Canal.

The first cargo of cotton to pass through the Panama canal was bound from Galveston for Yokohama. By using the canal instead of rounding the Horn, the vessel saved many days and more than five thousand dollars. How assuring and prophetic for the South! The markets of the Orient are thousands of miles nearer than they were and our opportunities for trade expansion are incalculably greater. The canal means a vast deal to all America and to all the world, but it means most to the South.

On her return voyage, the same vessel passed through the canal with a cargo of wheat from Seattle for Liverpool. In this instance, it is estimated, she will save some twenty-three days at sea and more than a thousand dollars. In the course of a year's shipping, these economies will mount far into the millions. They will stimulate commerce and will be profitable eventually to producers as well as to merchants.

The Panama canal opened in the shadow of the European war, so that its earnings are as yet comparatively small and its traffic greatly reduced. Despite obstacles, however, its usefulness is proved. Its tolls have steadily increased from month to month, and its splendid promise waits only upon the ending of the world war. Already it has been the means of establishing new trade routes between the United States and the Orient, notably between New York and Vladivostok; and it has stirred the South to particular interest in the possibilities of trade with the western markets of Latin America.

The opportunities offered by this great waterway are unlimited. It remains only for enterprise to grasp and use them.

In the spring of the year, the thoughts of the alleys will turn to war—war in earnest.

The old-fashioned man who used to refer to the fighting of the "alleys" has caught on at last. It is a long war and it is teaching us many things.

Editorial Echoes

In dealing with the problems of the next twenty-five years, the trained mind and the expert in every line will be needed to produce efficiency and economy; but, at the same time the technical expert must not lose sight of the broader questions of business as a whole and of the relations of the government to all business. So we need the technical man and the hard-headed economist to do the work of the world, to produce a sane public opinion and to furnish public servants of good sense and good experience, because the government is touching our daily lives in so many places.—Howard Elliott, Chairman New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

We cry for life—
Our work is life!
We yearn for wings
To lift, and soar,
Our toiling brings
The vision of things,
The widening beauty widening more
As further through each day we tread
Above the dust of doubts grown dead.
Whate'er my work, that is my life—
Forget 'tis strife,
Forego what seem
The endless cares—
So onward fares
The soul to light,
The heart to dream!

Daffodils,
That come before the swallow dares, and take
The winds of March with beauty; violets dim
But sweeter than the lids of Juno's eyes
Or Cytherea's breath; pale primroses
That die unmarried, ere they can behold
Bright Phoebus in his strength (a maladie
Most incident to maids) bold tulip and
The crown imperial; lilies of all kinds
The flower-de-luce being one.

The Journal's Letter Box

(The Journal welcomes short letters on seasonable subjects; but long epistles are a weariness to the flesh. In no circumstances will anonymous communications be published.)

Editor The Journal:

It is good advice, whether he says it to make a hit or not and I admire it in ex-President Taft, when he advises the masses of the United States, regardless of politics, to stick to the acting President in the case of stringent war-like times as it seems we will have to face whether we wish to or not, as did Belgium. Only a few concieve of what is taking place in and across the great waters. The peace-loving people are satisfied with President Wilson's peaceful war views. If brought into any disputes whatsoever, it is to be hoped that our standing armies can quell or bring some comfort about as did the conflict with Mexico, without involving our citizenry.

Now and then we hear of a few outbursts of onslaught of language as to what ought to be done. Ex-President Roosevelt and that kind should go over and just whisper loud enough for the kaiser to hear it, and they will have something to think about that would entertain them the balance of their days.

Editor The Journal:

Is there not enough convincing argument, backed with personality, in the whole human race to put a stop to the slaughter now taking place in the foreign countries? It is human to err, though beastly to fight. The beast fights for supremacy as they roam the forest, the stronger reigns supreme until they find their sperior in strength. Man was born to err. He that makes no mistakes makes nothing else. A mistake is only a spur that makes us right the wrong. To resort to the force of arms, which means slaughter, puts man back into his original kingdom, the animal. It must have been so intended at the beginning that man should never rise above his original kingdom, as it seems just as he was being elevated to convincing argument, backed with personality, some great power has put him back. Why do they fight? Personality has been forgotten. With one strong personnel to intercede personally with the right person, which is easy to find, wars, rumors of wars and mistakes can be corrected without slaughter. A business problem can be solved with figures, though a problem between individuals cannot be solved without an honest confession from both. Personality can do it. Personality is one's greatest asset.

TRAVELETTE

BY HIKSAW.

In some ways the war in Mexico has injured business in El Paso, and in some other ways it hasn't. There have been times, when, for three weeks at a stretch, not a single one-night stand show has opened along. But every time there is a new president in Mexico, which is quite frequent of late, El Paso grows in popularity as a health resort, Senor Luis Terrazas, Sr., still being dean of its people.

The alfalfa growers have been having a hard time of late because of the scarcity of water, but the Elephant Butte dam is nearly ready, and the real estate agents are expecting to harvest at least seven crops of buyers a year.

While El Paso has been "shot up" by the Mexicans and overrun with cattle thieves, refugees and rifle smugglers, its legitimate exports to Mexico, through the port of El Paso, for the year 1914 were $6,177,188, as against $1,970,827 the year previous. (Agents for one-night stand shows please note.)

And there has been a lot of trade in the side streets after sundown. There are some men in El Paso who were so poor before the war that they could not afford to have their shoes half-soled, who now refuse to send the cook to market in anything less than a six-cylinder car.

I know I can depend upon the chamber of commerce in El Paso to back me up in the statement that the city is located in the same latitude as Arabia and that twins can be raised here more cheaply than anywhere else in the southwest.

The Searchlight

Immense possibilities of sport and usefulness are opened up by the invention of a new type of hydroplane which travels solely upon the surface of the water, but is driven by an aerial propeller like an aeroplane.

The most gemarkable quality of this type of boat is that the faster it goes, the higher it rises in the water, and the less resistance the water offers; so that the speed increases in much higher ratio than the power expended. In a word, the faster you go, the faster you can go, until the limit imposed by the resistance of the air is reached.

The essentials of such a craft are a central hull, containing the engine and seats, a propeller on a shaft above the hull, and floats or outriggers to maintain the balance. The chief difficulty is in steering, which becomes increasingly difficult as the speed increases.

A recent patent by a French inventor solves this difficulty by making the lateral floats the steering, as well as the balancing apparatus. They are equipped with a number of small adjustable planes, like fins, which may be controlled from the boat while it is in motion. Thus by setting these mechanical fins at various angles, the direction of the boat may be perfectly controlled, even though the central hull is raised entirely out of the water by its speed.

Peter De Groot advertised for an office boy the other day. There weren't any replies that amounted to anything till a smutty faced urchin presented himself just at the hour when he should not have applied.

"What do you want?" growled Peter. The child answered:

"I don't suppose you don't know about no man that don't want to hire no kid nor no fellow to do no work nor nothing for him, do you? Or don't you?"

"Yes," answered Mr. De Groot, "I don't."

FEDERAL DETECTIVE BUREAUS

IV.---Postoffice Inspectors

By Frederic J. Haskin

THE largest staff of detectives maintained by any branch of the government is that to be found in the postoffice department, where 420 inspectors keep vigilant watch over the intricacies of that mail system which reaches to every village and hamlet under the flag. These men are particularly watchful for violations of the postal laws, but their duties do not end there. They inspect all postoffices, form judgments of the efficiency of their management, instruct postmasters, examine accounts, advise upon mail routes and perform many other detailed tasks. They are the direct link which conects the service at any point with the department at Washington.

* * *

But the phase of their work which appeals most to the interest of the public is that which has to do with violations of the law. They are detectives in the truest sense of the word—trained, intelligent men with the force of a great government behind them. One of their primary duties is to prevent the use of the mails for purposes of fraud. It is estimated that every year the people of the nation are swindled out of $100,000,000 by men who hatch clever schemes and operate them by the use of the mails. There are 400 to 500 convictions on this score, each twelve months.

* * *

A typical case of this sort was that of a broker in a town tributary to New York. He represented himself as being connected with an operator in Wall street who was at the very source of inside information. Through this operator he claimed to be able to get tips that enabled him to play the market in such a way as to be sure of his ability to lead his customers into the making of large fortunes. Through the mails he asked them to send him amounts of $100 and up to be used in buying stock upon these tips. He had not been operating long before every mail was bringing him large amounts of money. Prospective investigators besieged his offices. These heard him receiving his calls from Wall street. The conversations were about the probable trend of the market. They were greatly impressed.

* * *

All the money received was carefully stowed away. Soon $300,000 of it was accumulated. The broker reported to each customer that he had bought certain stock for him. When the stock advanced, he claimed to invest the winnings for yet greater profits. Eventually there would be a turning point where the broker could make the claim of having been squeezed out and of having lost the money. When the inspectors got on the case they soon found that the telephone over which messages were received was connected with the basement of the house in which it was located. The whole scheme was a fake. It was but one of a type by which the public is constantly deceived.

* * *

Insulting letters may not be sent through the mails without violating the law. Yet the wife of a young business man in a western city got such a letter, anonymously and without a trace of the identity of the writer. The husband suspected a lawyer who was an enemy, went to the office of the latter and charged him with the offense. In the privacy of his office the lawyer acknowledged sending the letter, taunted the business man with the insult, but defied him to prove it. He reported the case to an inspector who investigated unsuccessfully, but who, in accordance with the policy of the service, refused to abandon the case. This was before the time of the dictagraph, but the inspector concealed a small telephone in the crown of a high hat, which the business man wore, and from which ran a very small wire. The business man then called upon the lawyer and again upbraided him for his offense. The lawyer again acknowledged it and taunted his enemy. The inspector, at the other end of the wire, overheard all that was said for the high hat was on the desk just in front of the lawyer. His confession could then be proved.

* * *

A certain Russian-American in Brooklyn hit upon a very workable scheme of getting money on fraudulent money orders. He would purchase a money order for eight dollars, made payable at some nearby point. Then he would alter the order to read eighty dollars. He would go to the other point, cash it himself and disappear. He was of a roving disposition and would not repeat the offense again until he again needed money. Then his raised order for eighty dollars would reappear at another point.

* * *

An inspector was put on the trail of this man and followed him for months. He learned that the offender was from Riga, Russia. He knew of the clannishness of immigrants and figured that his man would be found among Russians from Riga in whatever community he might be living. He spent much time among Russians in different cities before he finally picked up the trail. He followed his man from Baltimore to Atlanta, thence to Cleveland and to Chicago. In Pittsburg he learned that the swindler was to call on the family of a girl who had jilted him that he might demonstrate his prosperity and make them sorry. He arrived but half an hour after the fugitive had gone. But in all these cities the inspector found natives of Riga who had been swindled by this man. They all agreed to wire the detective if they ever got track of the swindler. There was a chain built up clear across the country. Eventually a wire came from Paterson, N. J., and there the swindler was apprehended.

* * *

A rural letter carrier had the misfortune to be shot as an incident to a feud of the Kentucky mountains. The local authorities were so mixed up in the feud that they were unable or unwilling to arrest the offenders. But the federal government was determined to bring the murderers of its employe to justice. An inspector was sent into the mountains to bring out the guilty men. Representing himself to be a timber buyer, he spent many weeks in the mountains and finally insured himself as to who were the guilty parties. Reinforced by revenue agents he finally made his arrests, chanced the danger of being picked off by riflemen from the hillsides and took his prisoners out. That is, he took all but one. There was a woman implicated in the crime. Hers were the brains that had planned it, and she should have been punished. But she weighed 400 pounds. She lived high up in the mountains where no sort of wagon could be taken. When any attempt was made to move her she lay down. The bulk of her, combined with the inaccessibility of her home, prevented her being brought to justice.

A STATEMENT OF THE JAPANESE CASE

IT is only by ignorance of the text or a perversion of the terms of Japan's propositions to China that conclusions can be arrived at which show Japan striking at the territorial integrity of China or menacing the "open door" policy to which she has so fully subscribed. Examined closely, it will indeed be found that absolute respect for, nay, insistence on, the integrity of China and the "open door" is at the bottom of every proposition advanced by Japan in the pending negotiations between Tokio and Peking.

First, with regard to the late German possession, Kiao-Chau, it must be recalled that Germany wrested it from China with the "mailed fist" before strengthening it behind the screen of a ninety-nine-year lease, equally forced from the weakness of China, while she proceeded to fortify it to the best of her military ability, making it, in Chinese eyes and to China's cost, her "armed outwork office" in Asia. It was not the first blow which Germany had struck at the integrity of China and at the interests of Japan. After the close of the Chino-Japanese was it was Germany that joined with France and Russia to effect the retirement of Japan from Port Arthur. Let it be remembered here that Japan's war with China was waged to end for all time the pretensions of China to the ownership or suzerainty of Corea, whose government was impotent to protect itself, much less to stand between it and the perpetual menace to Japan implied in a hostile overlordship of the Corean peninsula by China. It was to assure the safety of Japan, through Corea, from future Chinese aggression that the close of the war Japan had exacted the retention in Japanese hands of Port Arthur, captured from China during the hostilities.

At the demand of the three great powers, made as above stated, Japan withdrew, humiliated, from Port Author, only to find in a very few years that Russia, with the support of Germany, had ensconced herself in Port Arthur, fortified it strongly, proceeded with the erection of the Port of Dalny, and began exploiting the Corean forests for timber—erecting another great "armed branch office," pronged out of China and again menacing Japan. To root out Russia from these unrighteous holdings and end the constant menace to Japan, the war against Russia was fought.

In all this where was Japan at fault? Had Japan done any wrong to China or taken as her own a rood of her territority? Wherein had her treaty engagements failed of fulfillment? Her taking over of the Russian railroad lease in Manchuria implied only the protection of trade routes open to the world, as well as a precaution of self-protection. China retained and retains today the ownership of the territory on which the road is built, and in my opinion it will be found that Japan in Kiao-Chau and throughout Shantung will stand equally by her obligations, and whatever pledges the Japanese government has made will be redeemed at their full value in Kiao-Chau. I submit, and no one can reasonably deny, that the when and the how of the return of Kiao-Chau to China can only be settled, can only be discussed, at the end of the war. It seems to have escaped attention that Japan is still at war with Germany beside her ally, Great Britain. Japan has highly resolved that Germany shall not again set up her "armed branch office" in Kiao-Chau, and who is to say that the "leased territory" shall be turned over to a China unable to defend it from Germany should a turn in the European war give Germany the chance to undertake its recapture? On that point, I plead that the trust in Japan's unsullied honor, hitherto shown by the enlightened of the United States, should continue with a patience whose endurance will wait upon the speed with which events are shaping themselves to a finality.

In the same way as with Kiao-Chau itself, the railroad concessions wrung from China by Germany should no longer be allowed to stand in Germany's name. They are part of the Kiao-Chau question and Germany's now loosened grip on the vitals of China. Again, no one may be sure, no real objections on the part of China to ther transfer to Japanese influence, however the German influence still haunting Peking may aver to the contrary, would be found to be too deeply skilful knowledge of China to know that such concessions here or there through her vast unopened territory in no wise threaten China or this Europen power or that having or pretending to "spheres of influence." When the territorial integrity of China and an unmolested entunity in trade to the outside nations are secured, these railroads make for China's progress and a flourishing world commerce. If these items really have been proposed, they are of the nature of things which one entitled to confidence may surely propose to a great and secure friend. And so with the other quoted propositions. If there is one which all who favor the "open door" should uphold, it is that by which China would undertake to declare that no more territorial concessions in coast towns or promontories or islands should be made to foreign powers. All the fair-minded of the world should applaud such a bargain, and to China herself it should furnish a desirable reason for refusing the temptations to give away or to pawn her vital trade or fortress positions in exchange for some monetary accommodation.—Jokichi Takamine in a letter to the New York Times.

WHAT SUBMARINES CAN DO

GREAT Britain professes to be not greatly alarmed at the so-called "paper blockade" to cut off British supplies. The rates of marine insurance are reported to be unaffected by the German program. Patriotism might account for the attitude assumed by spokesmen for Great Britain, and for that of the marine insurance company doing business from London headquarters. But it is of interest to inquire into the capabilities and limitations of the submarines as the instruments of a successful destruction of merchantmen.

Submarines can destroy merchantmen with ease wherever they can operate without interference. The question is whether they can cover the war zone, despite opposition, and with their espionage of craft traversing it and pick off the undersirables at will. Great Britain, apparently, believes that they cannot.

Seaplanes will probably prove useful in scouting for submarines, especially in clear weather. A duck which dives and disappears instantly from the sight of a man in a rowboat is plainly visible, especially in fair weather, from a point higher than the level of the water. It is difficult for the periscope of a submarine to be seen from the crow's nest of a merchantman, or picked up by a lookout on naval vessels, but if naval airships with a radius as great, and speed far greater, than submarines, cannot aid materially in discovering them before they are within striking distance of a victim the reason for such inability is not apparent. Submarines must rise to the surface occasionally for new supplies of air. When hunting their victims they must run upon the surface if they are to make fair speed, and with the periscope exposed in order to have an eye even when moving at low speed. From a point above the water a submarine close enough to the surface for the periscope to be above water should be seen easily and clearly by the armed airship. It would be unable to return the fire of the aerial enemy. The aeroplane could play about the submarine as easily as a fishhawk could maneuver above a turtle. The submarine can move only twelve knots an hour submerged, and then for a short time only.

An aeroplane that has once discovered a submarine should be able to keep on its track. From a point of complete safety it should be able to shoot at its periscope as often as it should appear. One lucky shot that strikes the periscope makes a blind assassin of the submarine. It must come to the surface to see it way to the repair shop.

Once discovered by the merchantman or battleship, the submarine, not already close enough to fire a torpedo, can be shown a clean pair of heels unless the larger vessel is too slow to get to shelter before the gap between it and the pursuer is closed up by the submarine at a surface speed of eighteen miles an hour. In the case of a battleship, or a lightly armed merchantman, the submarine, pursuing on the surface, would present a good target at any point near enough to make in dangerous. It must slow down to twelve knots if the surface is abandoned for the depths.

Submarines cruising about to destroy low-speed cargo boats, steaming without any sort of protection and submarines in action in a fairly well-guarded zone, with seaplanes and fast cruisers on guard, will be in situations very different.

The machinery of submarines is in about the same stage of development that the mechanism of an automobile was ten years ago. "Trouble" means a loss of efficiency at best, and at worst the sinking of the craft and the suffocation of the crew, even in peaceful maneuvers. A submarine for an extended campaign is, regardless of its theoretical radius and the probable ability of its crew to withstand the tremendous nervous, physical and mental strain of the service, an uncertain factor in warfare. Close to base, or sheltered by a squadron, it is of a very different degree of sureness and effectiveness.

It is estimated that in actual service the life of a submarine, considered as a composite unit made up of machinery and men, is but two weeks of continuous performance, and a blockade of any kind is a slow, waiting game extremely taxing to the durability of the force maintaining it.

The battleship cruiser is still regarded by experts upon naval construction as the supreme unit in naval warfare. The submarines with which Germany proposes to comb the sea for the enemy's supplies will not be allowed carte blanche in the war zone while there is a British navy.—Courier-Journal.

THREE SERVICES HELD AT TABERNACLE SUNDAY

Tremendous Audiences Thrilled by Powerful Sermons of Dr. Chapman

Three times Sunday the Peachtree Tabernacle was jammed to overowing, at a morning service for men only, and at afternoon and night services, at which the audiences were thrilled by the strong sermons of Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and the singing of the choir, led by Charles M. Alexander.

Monday will be marked by only one service, at 7:30 o'clock at night.

At both the morning and afternoon services Sunday attention was called to the one hundredth anniversary of peace between Great Britain and the United States, brought about by the signing of the treaty of Ghent, which ended the War of 1812.

Dr. Chapman, at the morning service, called on the vast audience of men to hope not only for another hundred years of peace between the two countries, but for peace and the banishment of war throughout the world. As one man the audience answered "I" when the evangelist asked who would pray for peace.

Again, in the afternoon, Dr. J. J. Hall, secretary of the Georgia Peace society, offered prayers for the establishment of world-wide peace.

Men and boys from many of the city's Sunday schools marched in a body to the morning service, headed by bands from Georgia Tech and the Georgia Military academy, playing "Onward, Christian Soldiers." The morning sermon of Dr. Chapman was on "The Wind and the Whirlwind," and at its conclusion over 200 marched down the aisle and shook the evangelist by the hand, thus signifying their intention of leading a better life.

In the afternoon and at night more still were swayed by the eloquence of the preaching and the wonderful singing of the choir, led by Mr. Alexander, so that, in all, the day's converts were the greatest number reached by the revival in twenty-four hours.

The night sermon of Dr. Chapman was on the subject of God's power to change the hearts of men. "You Must Be Born Again" was his text, and he emphasized the necessity of a real change of heart before man can do his work as a Christian.

BIG CHARITY BAZAR TO OPEN TUESDAY NOON

Interest Grows in the Election of Queen of Mardi Gras

At noon Tuesday the big five-day charity bazar given under the auspices of prominent Atlanta society women for the benefit of the Home of the Friendless, Home for Incurables and Children's Home society, will open at the auditorium-armory. From then until Saturday, Grand Mardi Gras day, the booths will be open to the public from noon each day to 11 o'clock at night, and on each afternoon and evening there will be special high-class vaudeville by artists of reputation, band concerts, dancing, and about every other kind of amusement that could be devised to make the bazar a genuine dyed-in-the-wool entertainment for young and old.

The opening day has been set aside as Governor's day, and Governor Slaton and other dignitaries have promised to attend.

Interest in the election of queen of the grand Mardi Gras, a contest that any Atlanta girl may enter, showed an increase Monday and friends of the candidates were out working for their favorites to land the "royal honor and the $100 diamond ring that will be given the winner.

Monday morning at 10 o'clock the six cars that will feature the bazar gave a free show to the convicts at the federal prison and later were to entertain the inmates of the Home for Incurables in the same manner.

MAN SICK TWO YEARS TRIES TO END HIS LIFE

Sick for over two years from intermittent fever, D. B. Mathews, aged fifty-two years, a salesman, Sunday night tried to cut his throat with a penknife, and is now at the Grady hospital, where his recovery is expected.

Mr. Mathews was sitting in the front hall of his home, 331 Euclid avenue, Inman Park. He was alone with his wife, who was reading to him to quiet his nerves. Mrs. Mathews said he grabbed the knife and slashed at his throat before she was aware of his intention. The Grady hospital was called, and Mr. Mathews was found lying in a chair in the parlor, bleeding profusely.

Mrs. H. R. Maddox Dies

JACKSON, Ga., March 1.—Mrs. H. R. Maddox, wife of Henry R. Maddox, a well-known citizen of Worthville, died at her home yesterday morning, after an illness of many months. Before marriage she was a Miss Stodghill, and besides her husband is survived by two brothers, Messrs. James Stodghill and W. F. Stodghill. She was about sixty-five years of age.

TOO MUCH 'HOME TALENT' NOT GOOD FOR SCHOOLS

"No Greater Misfortune Can Come to System," Says Education Bureau

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—A city may easily have too much "home talent" in its teaching force, as a result of preference for graduates from its own teacher-training school, according to a statement by the federal bureau of education.

"No greater misfortune can come to any school system than to have a steady inbreeding of home talent," the statement declares. "The board of education should insist upon the selection of at least one-third of the new teachers each year from outside the city limits. The preference in appointment for local graduates is not always in the interest of the school system. To say a teacher must suffer the penalty of being accounted less worthy because she has graduated from some other training school than the one in the city where application is made for a position is to strangle healthy competition among teachers. Inbreeding is today the blight of a great many school systems in this country."

Reports from forty-three cities show, according to the bureau, that Baltimore and Paterson have the smallest proportion of teachers from outside sources; while Newark, Cleveland, Rochester, Birmingham and Omaha have the largest percentage of teachers trained elsewhere.

CAPLAN AND SCHMIDT TO DEMAND SEPARATE TRIALS

Both Men Probably Will Be Arraigned Tuesday on Dynamiting Charges

LOS ANGELES, March 1.—David Caplan and M. A. Schmidt, who must answer murder charges in connection with the destruction of the Times building here in 1910, will demand separate trials, according to H. H. Appel, retained as attorney for them by Anton Johannsen, general organizer of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America. Appel expects to have associated with him several attorneys familiar with the trials of the McNamara brothers.

Caplan, who was extradited from Fort Orchard, Wash., and Schmidt, who was extradited from New York, have not been allowed since their arrival here last week, either to confer with their attorney or talk with each other.

Both probably will be arraigned tomorrow on one of the eighteen indictments returned against them.

LIVE STOCK ARE BURNED WHEN BARN IS DESTROYED

Fire at Farm of W. H. Baker Is Believed of Incendiary Origin

Four cows, two mules and four goats were burned in a fire early Monday morning that destroyed a barn on the farm of W. H. Baker, on the Brown's Mill road, one mile beyond Lakewood. The loss was estimated at several thousand dollars.

A son of Mr. Baker discovered the fire after i thad made great headway. Attempts to put out the flames were fruitless, nor could the live stock be saved. For a time, it appeared that Mr. Baker's house, not far from the barn, would be burned, but the wind shifted and it did not catch.

County Policemen Carl C. Heard and R. F. Jordan are investigating in the belief that the fire was started by some one who had a grudge against Mr. Baker.

Judge S. Y. Jarrett Dies

BLAIRSVILLE, Ga., March 1.—S. Y. Jarrett, a prominent citizen of this county, died at his home at this place yesterday. Judge Jarrett was among the oldest citizens of the county. He was judge of the court of ordinary for many years and held other positions of honor and trust. Mr. Jarrett was a grandson of Simpson Y. Reid, late of this county, and a cousin of Judge Harry M. Reid, of Atlanta.

ORGANIZED LABOR STARTS CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION

More Light on Aims and Accomplishments, Object of Move

With a view to bringing to the attention of the working people of Atlanta the objects and accomplishments of organized labor, both in a social and economic way, a big labor forward movement was inaugurated at a mass meeting held at the Labor temple on Trinity avenue Sunday afternoon.

It is planned to reach both the members of labor unions and non-members with this labor revival or labor forward movement. Preliminary to a big central mass meeting to be held on Sunday afternoon, March 21, open meetings will be held by the various unions of the city.

The committee in charge of the details of the movement is headed by William Robinson, president of the Atlanta Federation of Trades. Karl Karnton is chairman of a committee of ten which will attend and co-operate with the various unions in their open meetings.

Addresses were made at the mass meeting Sunday by Jerome Jones, Dan Green, T. J. Reagan and others. This meeting was attended by a large number of members of local unions composing the Atlanta Federation of Trades and also by many unorganized or non-union workmen.

PRIZES OFFERED SOLDIERS FOR MAKING HIGH MARKS

Keen Competition Expected in Fifth Regiment on Annual Inspection Next Month

Five prizes aggregating $50 will be awarded for the organizations of the Fifth regiment making the highest marks in the annual inspection next month. All twelve of the companies and the band may compete for these prizes, and Colonel Orville H. Hall, who has arranged for the contest, expects it to stimulate the soldier boys to "brush up" for the inspections.

Prizes will be awarded for the highest marks in property display and small shortage, close and extended order drill. It is also hoped to secure a large number of recruits as, under the war department rules, men in line has been increased from 10 to 100 points in the inspection.

All of the field officers of the Fifth are co-operating with Colonel Hall in working up interest in the contest. The inspections will be made by officers representing the war department and the national guard of Georgia.

MRS. LAURA MAUCK IS VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Aged and Honored Resident Had Been Atlantian Forty Years

Mrs. Laura Fleming Mauck, the wife of M. M. Mauck, died early Monday morning at the family residence, 127 Washington street, in her sixty-sixth year.

Mrs. Mauck came to Atlanta more than forty years ago, shortly after her marriage, and she lived here continuously until her death with the exception of three years spent in California for her health, from which place she returned a year ago. Her health had been failing for a number of years, but the immediate cause of her death was an attack of pneumonia which came on two weeks ago.

Before her marriage Mrs. Mauck was Miss Laura Fleming, of Selma, Ala., where she was pipe organist in one of the leading churches. On moving to Atlanta, Mrs. Mauck joined Trinity Methodist church and was a member throughout the balance of her life.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, one son, four grandchildren, five nephews and one niece.

The daughter is Mrs. James E. Warren, of Atlanta; the son is W. M. Mauck, of Los Angeles, Cal. The grandchildren are Helen and James E. Warren, Jr., and Marian and Beverly Mauck. The nephews are Messrs. Joseph Weaver, of Birmingham; W. D. Weaver, of Waynesboro, Va.; Harry Weaver, of Montgomery, W. Va.; Richard Weaver, of Oklahoma City, and Thomas Weaver, of Waynesboro, Va. The niece is Miss Laura Weaver, a namesake of Mrs. Mauck, of Waynesboro, Va.

The funeral will be held at Patterson's chapel at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Rev. H. B. Mayes, pastor of Druid Hills Methodist church, a boyhood friend of Mrs. Mauck, will conduct the service, assisted by Rev. C. O. Jones, pastor of Trinity Methodist church. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

BENJAMIN M. COOK, AGED CITIZEN, DEAD

Mr. Benjamin M. Cook, seventy-seven years old, died Monday morning at 6 o'clock at a private sanitarium. He was born in Henry county, Ga., in 1838. Cook's district, near Buckhead, was named for him.

He is survived by two granddaughters, Mrs. A. H. Petherbridge, of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Annie May Donnell, of Alabama City, Ala. He was a member of Mount Vernon Methodist church and was a successful farmer. His wife died last September and his only child, Mrs. L. A. Patterson, died last December.

The body was removed to Donehoo's chapel, awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Petherbridge, when funeral arrangements will be made.

POOR COUNTERFEIT OF $10 NOTE IN CIRCULATION

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—Chief Flynn, of the secret service, has issued a warning of the existence of a poor counterfeit of the new $10 national bank note on the Second National Bank of Boston, Mass., bearing the portrait of William McKinley. It is a photographic production on which no attempt has been made to color the seal or numbering.

Ushering in the Month of March With

A Sale of China

Which We Can Classify as the Best Thing of Its Kind We Have Ever Done

We found in our recent search through New York for the right sort of merchandise to bring to Atlanta one of the rarest and yet most real opportunities that we have ever met with. It came in the form of a wonderfully fine collection of China---

English Bone, Limoges, Bavarian, Austrian, German and Hand-Painted China

in the many pieces that you see listed below We could buy it so far under real worth that we could sell it at prices

One-Half to One-Fourth of Regular Prices

Mind you---the largest price you can pay is but half the worth, and from that they go down to one-fourth.

And so here it is---on the first day of the first spring month, when women are beginning to fix up their homes for the new season--here because it is, first of all, the right kind of China, such as we would offer in the regular way had we not been so successful in turning this deal.

Read the list below, it is fairly complete, bring it with you; ask for the different items, you will find them far daintier and prettier than such a list can tell.

It is, of its very nature, such a sale as could happen but once in a great, great while---it actually cost more to produce many of the pieces than we shall sell them for.

Work of Putting Park in Shape Begins; Harry Welchonce Due Here Today

DIANA DILLPICKLES IN (AT LAST THE DILLPICKLES RIDE) A 4-REEL "SCREECHER" FILM

B. Smith Starts Work at Ponce

Force of Prisoners Engaged in Clearing Away Wreckage Left by Construction Work

Preceding his annual employment of bats, balls, protectors and other paraphernalia of the diamond in the early spring days, Manager Bill Smith this morning equipped a force at hand with pick, shovel, scraper et cetera, and wended his way to Ponce de Leon, to give the old yard a gentle massage in his effort to take the bad hops out of the infield, and smooth down the wrinkled places in the outer gardens before the spiked-hoof hosts begin to arrive here next week.

The Cracker pilot is bossing a bunch of prisoners who have been turned over to him by the county construction department for a period of one week to put the park in condition for practice work. Provided the present favorable weather continues, he expects to have everything in shape by the end of the week. Just as soon as the grounds will permit the bunch of local tossers already on hand will begin to limber up a bit, without awaiting the official summons from Manager Bill. Roy Moran, Frank Browning, Hack Eibel, Pitcher Williams and several other players who have yet to take up their departure for their respective camps are itching for a chance to get out and gambol about a bit.

An addition to the local colony is expected this afternoon. Harry Welchonce is due to arrive here on a late train from Asheville. On advice from his physician, the ex-captain of the Crackers has decided to stay out of active ranks this season, but it is a good safe bet that Harry will take a small hand in the fun at Ponce de Leon when he arrives. He will umpire the exhibition games here, and will leave shortly after the season opens for his home in Greenville, Pa., where he will serve as business manager for an independent team this summer.

Trying to Sell St. Paul Club

ST. PAUL, Minn., Mar. 1.—With a view of determining the future of the St. Paul club of the American association, which has been on the market without a purchaser since last fall, a special committee appointed at the recent Chicago schedule meeting of the association met here today. President Thomas Shivington, Mike Cantillon, of Minneapolis, and A. F. Timme, of Milwaukee, composed the committee.

It seemed certain that St. Paul would retain the franchise. It is understood that John W. Norton, has a plan whereby St. Paul interests would take over the club, but if this is not approved by the committee, it is said, the club will be operated here by the association. If the Norton proposition goes through, it is reported, Mike Kelly will manage the team.

Donovan Starts South With Players

NEW YORK, March 1.—William Donovan, manager of the New York American league club, accompanied by five players, Captain Tillinghast Huston, one of the new owners of the club; Duke Farrell, the veteran coach, and Trainer Duggan, left yesterday for the training camp at Savannah.

Pitcher Ray Fisher was the only veteran in the party. Other players will be picked up on the way south.

The New York players now at Hot Springs will join the squad at Savannah by the middle of the month.

Braves Begin to Arrive at Macon

MACON, Ga., March 1.—Members of the Boston National league baseball team who had arrived here were ready to begin spring training today. Captain Johnny Evers, Catchers Gowdy, Whaling and Tragresser and Pitcher Hess were greeted on their arrival by Manager Stallings, who spent the winter on his farm near Macon.

Manes Signs With Little Rock Club

CHATTANOOGA, March 1.—Asserting that he is a free agent because Minneapolis did not tender him a contract before February 1, Spurgeon Manes has signed to play with Little Rock this year.—Manes is a Chattanoogan but is spending the winter in Cincinnati. The information came in a letter to a friend here. Manes is a first baseman.

Reds Start for Camp

CINCINNATI, March 1.—Twelve Cincinnati National players left here Sunday for the spring training grounds at Alexandria, La. Others will board the train en route or proceed direct from their homes. Manager Herzog already is at the camp.

WINTER INDEED.

Who says it's winter—though the gales be blowing?
Who says it's winter—though the skies be gray?
Who says it's winter—though it's sleeting or its snowing
And a raw wind ripples in a drive across the way?

How can it be winter—though the cold winds caper?
How can it be winter, though it's muggy and it's damp?
When the fan starts turning over pages in the paper
To gather in the gossip from the training camp?

Detroit Alex.—Undoubtedly. If young Mr. Dauss and young Mr. Dubuc pitch as they should pitch this season as a bolstering aid to the Tiger defence, the run-making ability of the Detroit club will be sufficient to jam the Jennings line-up around second place.

THE MISSING KINK.

We were talking with a well known ball player yesterday about the 1915 future of the Red Sox. "Don't you figure," we asked, "that Carrigan's club should finish in front?"

"Easy," he replied, "if they hustle one-half as hard as the Braves did last year. But no matter how good you are you can't win a pennant unless you play baseball. And I never heard anybody last year accusing the Red Sox of straining themselves."

WILLARD AND JOHNSON.

Sooner or later, if not a bit before, Jack Johnson and Jess Willard must engage in a personal debate as to which deserves the lone camp stool on top of the heavyweight hill.

So that little workout along the Mexican border was a good thing for the tall westerner, even though it led to no immediate battle. The main rear over the Willard-Johnson fight was Willard's lack of preparation for any such event. Johnson hadn't done any more than Willard for a year or two, but the Zulu leastaway had absorbed in past days far more needful experience than his competitive White Hope. Now, if Willard could sandwich in one good battle against some first-class competitor, he would be a long way nearer the championship zone.

PHANTOM ECHOES.

What's that? I thought I heard
Somebody yell out—"Safe at third"?
—Exchange.

And I could swear somebody cried—
"Slide—you marble turret—slide!"

THE SIZE OF THE CUP.

Many of those commenting upon enlarging the size of the cup in golf write as if the cup was always the same size.

No fallacy could be more foolish. We have putted on some days when the cup must have been fourteen inches across. And on other days when it could not possibly have been more than an inch and a quarter—barely large enough to ensconce a small marble.

Eddie Mahan has gone out for the Harvard baseball squad. He'll be a tough man to tag in a broken field, barring the use of a net.

FORCED MARCHES.

There is also many a slip on the short side of the start.

In burning bridges behind you be sure that you can swim.

There are a number of things that bat .482 in theory which couldn't hit for .06 7-8 up against the test.

"Phillies," says a contemporary, "lose all their stars." Well, we know of a couple of clubs that could use Grover Cleveland Alexander, Dode Paskert, Cactus Cravath and the athlete labeled by Charley Dryden the Killifer Case.

The Princeton hockey team can sympathize deeply and keenly with Connie Mack in losing an ace by the name of Baker.

"Westward the star of empire takes its way," wrote the poet, who had evidently not looked into the baseball status involving the Red Sox and the Braves. Or perhaps he was merely a lawn tennis fan.

Or he may have been a fight man. The vast majority of those attached to the wallop and the proper footwork dwell nearer the Pacific than the Atlantic. And we are not referring here to Carl Morris or a Mr. James Flynn.

M'GRAW'S TASK.

When John J. McGraw started his Giant party for Marlin it was the first time since 1910 that his job was not built around the effort of defending the top. Having been displaced, there is now an added incentive to get back, for the top never looks so good as when it is held by some rival entry.

McGraw ended the long Giant drouth that extended from 1905 through 1910 just four years ago. Winning a pennant was soon taken as a matter of course. So, when the shock came last August as the Braves invented Manhattan Isle and gave no quarter through three days of warfare, general interest was imparted again to the Giant campaigns as well as the rest of the league's flag affairs.

Bresnahan's Cubs Assemble at Tampa

TAMPA, Fla., March 1.—Fourteen members of the Chicago National league baseball club arrived here late Sunday afternoon from Chicago and intermediate points to spend thirty days training preparatory to beginning the 1915 season. They were headed by President C. H. Thomas, Secretary R. B. Cook and Manager Roger Bresnahan.

The new arrivals were met by Good, McLarry, Adams, Buckles, Phelps, Keating, Vaughn and Knisely, who came to Tampa direct from their several homes, arriving Saturday.

140-Game Schedule For Western Assn.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 1.—The Western Association of Baseball clubs, in session here yesterday, approved a schedule of 140 games, the playing season to start April 13 and close August 29, and adopted a resolution declaring the unqualified loyalty of the association to organized baseball.

Resolutions of condolence on the death of W. M. Kavanaugh, president of the Southern association, also were adopted.

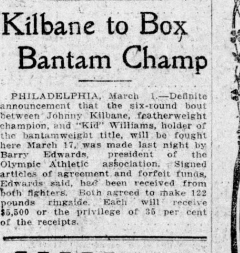
Tigers Begin to Reach Gulfport

MOBILE, Ala., March 1.—A special from Gulfport, Miss., says:

The first squad of the Detroit American league team arrived here last night, joining Manager Hughey Jennings. Pitcher Harry Tuthill and Sam Crawford, who have been at the camp a week. Players of the old lineup came in as follows: James McGuire, Ray McKee, George Bohler, Teller Cavet, and Recruits Bernard Boland, Nashville, pitcher; George Cunningham, Jr., Pine City, Minn., pitcher; B. O. Ledbetter, Charlotte, pitcher; Benjamin J. Carr, Memphis, pitcher; J. P. Smithson, Clinton, Iowa; Archie Yelle, Peoria, Ill., and John Peters, St. Paul, all catchers.

Pittfeds Gathering

PITTSBURG, March 1.—E. T. Oakes, manager; Edward Konetchy, captain, and two players, formed the advance squad of the Pittsburg Federals, which left last night for the training camp at Augusta, Ga. Other players will join them on the way or go direct to the camp.



Vols' Holdout Crop Is Heavy

Paulette, Berger, Krah, King and Street Have Yet to Make Terms With Bill Schwartz

NASHVILLE, March 1.—Nashville's crop of holdouts is a bumper one this year, and the indications are that the local management is going to have a flock of trouble in getting all of the Nashville pill chasers lined up by the time the season begins. Those of the local roster who are still batting 1,000 in the holdout league are Gene Paulette, first baseman; Floyd Kroh, pitcher; Heinie Berger, pitcher; Charley Street, catcher, and Bert King, outfielder.

These five have been the recipients of many letters from the Nashville magnates, but as yet they have not come across with their signed contracts. Street has signified his willingness to sign, but the papers are still missing. Just why "Gabby" doesn't sign is something the Vol magnates as well as the fans would like to know.

On their recent visit to Little Rock the Nashville magnates conferred at length with Paulette, but the agile first sacker didn't come to terms with the local officials, and they came away from the league meeting without his signed contract. Paulette is the best ball player on the Nashville club and it would be a decided loss if he should fail to report. Everything possible is going to be done to get Paulette into line, as he is a good outfielder, but not such that he is worth the salary he asks, and the Nashville magnates will likely let him remain out just as long as he likes. Berger and Kroh are after good fat salaries, and the chances are that they will hold out until a little after reporting time before they come into the fold. Both pitchers like to work for Nashville, but don't relish the salaries that they are to receive, and are inclined to kick. However, adjustment will likely be made of the differences, and everything brought around for the reporting date—March 15.

Wingo Goes to Join the Reds

NORCROSS, Ga., March 1.—Ivey Wingo, of this city, left Saturday night for Alexandria, La., where he will join the Cincinnati club, of the National league, in training quarters. Wingo is still nominally the property of the St. Louis club, but it is expected that a deal will be framed up between St. Louis and Cincinnati whereby he will be transferred to the latter club. Manager Herzog persuaded Wingo to return to the ranks of organized ball several weeks ago, after he had announced his intention of joining the Federals. It was understood at the time that Wingo would be traded by the St. Louis club.

Wingo has spent practically all of the fall and winter on his farm near here. He has taken excellent care of himself, and it will require only a few weeks' work to put him in shape for the beginning of the regular league season. He expects this to be a fine season for him.

Kilbane to Box Bantam Champ

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—Definite announcement that the ten-round bout between Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, and "Kid" Williams, holder of the bantamweight title, will be fought here March 17, was made last night by Barry Edwards, president of the Olympic Athletic association. Signed articles of agreement and forfeit funds, Edwards said, had been received from both fighters. Both agreed to make 122 pounds ringside. Each will receive $5,500 or the privilege of 35 per cent of the receipts.

Sailing The News

BY INNIS BROWN

With the situation no more definite than that a meeting will be held one day the latter part of this week, probably Thursday, Southern league directors face the proposition of electing a successor to the late President W. M. Kavanaugh. Vice President W. T. Crawford announced in Little Rock a few days ago that he would call a meeting for the purpose of holding the election within a few days. However, the place of this meeting has not yet been announced. At the time the above announcement was made it was thought probable the meeting would be held in Little Rock. A change may be made in the place, however. Announcement of both place and time is expected within the next day or so.

So far as can be learned, the choice of a successor to the late lamented president has yet to take any definite form. No less than a half-dozen possibilities have been mentioned. President R. H. Baugh, of the Birmingham club, was prominently mentioned but the Slagtown mogul has announced that business matters will probably prevent his serving the league in an official capacity. Charlie Frank, former manager of the New Orleans and Memphis clubs, and present vice president, is being warmly supported in certain quarters. In addition to this pair, C. C. Kavanaugh, a brother of the judge; J. Marlin Speed, vice president of the Memphis club; Clyde Shropshire, president of the Nashville club, and one or two others have been mentioned as possibilities. As yet, none of these gentlemen have lined up enough support to insure an election.

Sunday was a notable day locally in more ways than one. In addition to the fact that Chief Beavers put the ban on the imbibers, two celebrities of wide renown took their departure from our midst. George Kircher packed his kit, and grabbed a rattler for Louisville. He will spend a few days with his people and then depart for Fresno, California, where he will join the diamond forces of Walt McCredie, of the Portland club, for training work.

The other departing brother was Count Luiz Castro, widely known in sport, court, undertaking and club circles. Lou left for Griffin, where he will take charge of the leading hostelry of the city. In addition to his duties of entertaining the traveling public, Lou is regarded as a strong possibility as manager of the club which Griffin will have in the Georgia-Alabama league. He would make the club an excellent leader, and the owners will do well to consider him fully before making a selection.

It is said that the chief consideration with Jack Johnson in declining to fight at Juarez was the anticipation of a brief notice following the fight that the big smoke was expected to report at the Leavenworth, Kan., camp at an early date in the height of condition.

This is no boost for a college education. Jess Willard's press agent avers that the big cowboy could select from his training camp a team of former athletic stars who would hold their own against the best outlay on the field and path to be found in the country today.

Mercer Strong On Battery Men

Frank Hunt Will Be First String Hurler--Six Others Aspire for Places on Staff

MACON, Ga., March 1.—Coach Fred Dobbins is expected to get out for first practice today; the baseball candidates at Mercer. From information gathered this early, it appears that the Bibbites will take the field with a strong line up this year. A good nucleus of old men remains on hand from last year, and much promising new material is among the ranks of the first-year men.

Battery candidates will occupy the attention of the coach more especially at first. And from present indications, competition for places in the points is going to be keen. Of course, Frank Hunt, star hurler for the past two seasons, will be one of the realtors. Hunt was the peer of any college hurler in the south last season, and should be even better this year with his added weight, strength and experience.

In addition to Hunt, there are Stevens, Forrester, Weaver, Welch, Sams and Smith. Several of these have shown pitching ability, and it is expected that at least two more good men will be rounded up from this sextet. Both Forrester and Stevens have pitched varsity ball, and both should show improvement over past years.

Clements will doubtless be the main dependence behind the plate. His work last season brought forth very favorable comment, and he was given strong mention for all-southern honors. Adams was first assistant last season, and will afford the chief competition against Clements for first place. Crawford and Walker are two other receiving aspirants.

PLACING OF EMBARGO ON COTTON CAUSED DECLINE

Market in New York Closed 2 to 8 Points Down From Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 1.—Cotton was unsettled early today with the talk around the floor indicating considerable uncertainty as to the effect of the expected British blockade announcement on cotton shipments. For some time past, however, the tendency has been to even up commitment in anticipation of such a development, and today's early trading was comparatively quiet with fluctuations narrow. The opening was steady at an advance of 2 points to a decline of 1 point, and active months ruled about a point or two over Saturday's figures during the early session.

Liverpool became a seller here shortly after the opening, presumably on a fresh straddle account and prices eased off to a net loss of 4 or 5 points during the middle of the morning. There was some scattering liquidation on this decline but offerings became less active after the close of the English market and prices here steadied up to about Saturday's closing figures on covering and the continued heavy exports.

The first version of the British blockade announcement to reach the cotton exchange indicated that a nembargo would be placed only to shipments of foodstuffs to Germany, and prices rallied, with active months selling 7 to 9 points net higher on covering of shorts. Later reports, however, stated that the embargo would be placed on all commodities, and a very sharp break followed around 2 o'clock, with active months selling 9 to 10 points net lower under active liquidation.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, March 1.—Cotton lost 3 to 4 points in the first half hour of business today on moderate selling, stimulated by the uncertainty surrounding the first deliveries on contracts under the new federal law. The undertone, however, was steady.

With prices 3 to 5 points down the market met an increased inquiry and prices quickly recovered. In the trading up to noon the most active months went a point over Saturday's close.

In the afternoon conflicting reports regarding the attitude of the allies regarding cotton first put prices to a net advance of 4 to 6 points and then to a net decline of 5 to 9 points.

COTTON MARKET OPINIONS

Jay, Bond & Co.: The market shows no weakness; on the contrary, a healthy demand comes to the surface when cotton is pressed for sale.

Hubbard Bros.: Planters, merchants and bankers realize that a large crop planted with the war in progress would mean such an era of low prices that the ensuing economic loss would bring a state of affairs worse than 1898 or 1899.

Weld & Co.: Recommend purchases on all reactions.

HAYWARD & CLARK'S COTTON LETTER

NEW ORLEANS, March 1.—There was no change in the situation over Sunday and the markets are still awaiting for a decision through political developments.

London news suggests the possibility of the announcement tomorrow of an absolute blockade of goods for Germany. This would compel protection of export stocks carried in this country by the sale of futures, and the markets are affected by this outlook and ruled weaker this morning.

Financial reviews lay stress on the decline in foreign exchange caused by the issuance of government war bonds which overload the financial markets, and by the danger attached to gold shipments. The Japan-China controversy and our latest policy in regard to Mexico cause unrest.

Liverpool letters say Manchester is busy supplying with goods these markets which are cut off from German-Austrian and Russian supplies.

Weather conditions over Sunday were better than expected. The map shows no rain except over the Atlantics. Indications favor a generally fair and cold weather belt except cloudy over northwest Texas and Oklahoma.

Spot business is practically at a standstill, waiting the outcome in politics. Cotton, however, seems in firm hands and so far, no pressure is in evidence. The present tonnage in the various ports is large enough to keep up exports for a week or two. After that the effect of the curtailment by war measures may become more noticeable.

The contract market weakened to 8.11 for May during the early trading and is now waiting around that figure for new developments, particularly in international politics.

Unnecessary War

(Arthur Bullard, in the Century.)

Any government of ours which allows us to be dragged into a war on a misunderstanding, no matter how effectively it has developed our army and navy, will deserve impeachment. Treitschke, a German professor of politics, has taught that there are inevitable conflicts between states which can be settled only by force. The people of the United States are loath to accept this theory, but they are determined not to go to war on any other basis. Few Americans are Tolstoyans. But woe to any administration which involves us in an unnecessary war!

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET WAS IRREGULAR AT CLOSE

General Motors, Lehigh Valley, Atchison and Smelters Up--Reading Is Off

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 1.—A 1 point advance in Union Pacific and a 2 point decline in Louisville and Nashville to 110, its new minimum, were the principal features of today's early stock market. Prices otherwise inclined to irregularity, Reading responding favorably to a moderate inquiry while Pennsylvania was heavy on its poor statement of earnings for January. Shares of the motor companies were again active at advancing prices. Americans, with the exception of Canadian Pacific, were lower in the London market.

Gradual recovery to the high level of the morning was made by some of the leaders after midday. Specialties were heavy, however, American Locomotive preferred and American Express falling to minimum prices. Selling of bonds for foreign holders continued.

Trading became more stagnant in the late dealings, following the announcement of the British government's more stringent policy against Germany.

The closing was steady.

Weather Conditions

Forecast till 7 p. m. Tuesday.

Atlanta and vicinity: fair tonight and Tuesday; frost tonight.

Georgia. Fair tonight and Tuesday; frost tonight.

Alabama: Fair tonight, with frost; Tuesday fair.

In the eastern portion of the country some cloudiness remains, especially in the eastern and western parts of the cotton belt, but the weather is now generally fair over the central Mississippi and Ohio valleys and lake region. Temperatures range from near freezing in the northern part of the cotton belt to 10 degrees above zero at Sault Ste. Marie.

As the atmospheric pressure is high over the section west of the lower Mississippi river fair weather is now indicated, without any great change is temperature. Frost will occur Tuesday morning.

The atmospheric pressure is low over the plateau region, with unsettled weather west of the Rocky Mountains. Temperatures in the extreme northwest are not very low, and moderate weather as to temperatures will continue.

Fair weather is indicated for tonight and Tuesday.

Section Director.

INTERESTING NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE MARKETS

Weather Reports, Crop Advices, Expert Opinions and Newspaper Comment

COTTON GOSSIP

Journal of Commerce says: After all, putting cotton on the contraband list by England and the rest of the allies is plainly not meant to keep American cotton out of Europe. Naturally a contraband order only refers to ships bound for belligerent ports. The United States could still export cotton to Holland, Italy, Spain and Russia, not to mention China and Japan. Cotton to Great Britain, moreover, would go in British ships and a good deal would, it is also assumed, go to France. The market encounters buying on declines although a good many people do not believe the acreage will be cut down much; they believe that purchases of fertilizers will be greatly reduced by sheer necessity.

Weather map favorable, shows cloudy western states and Atlantics, fair rest of belt, only light scattered rains in eastern states, no rain of consequence western and central belt.

11 a. m. bids in New York were as follows: March, 8.20; May, 8.42; July, 8.64; October, 8.92; December, 9.11.

10 a. m. bids in New Orleans were: March, 7.87; July, 8.31; October, 8.61.

New Orleans: Spots dull. Practically no export business. Prices unchanged; holders firm.

Savannah, Ga., clears 19,000 bales.

Forecast: Virginia—Fair tonight and Tuesday; moderate northwest winds.

Georgia—Fair tonight and Tuesday; frost tonight; gentle to moderate northwest winds.

Alabama—Fair tonight with frost; Tuesday fair; gentle northerly winds.

Mississippi—Fair tonight; frost in north and east portions, and in low places in southwest portion; Tuesday fair, warmer; gentle to moderate north to east winds.

Tennessee, Kentucky—Fair tonight and Tuesday.

Louisiana—Tonight fair, probably frost; Tuesday increasing cloudiness, warmer; light northerly winds on the coast.

Arkansas—Tonight fair, warmer in west portion; Tuesday increasing cloudiness.

Oklahoma—Tonight and Tuesday generally cloudy, warmer tonight.

East Texas—Tonight and Tuesday generally cloudy, warmer; light northerly to esterly winds on the coast.

West Texas—Tonight and Tuesday unsettled, warmer tonight.

Logan & Bryan say: It is thought the allies will announce their intention to seize all shipments destined for German territory and if such is the case a sharp reaction in values may be witnessed temporarily. Heavy offerings at the opening all well taken. Hentz good seller. Sentiment against prices. Waters and Cordoza best buyers. Selling scattered.

STOCK GOSSIP

Dow, Jones summary: Supreme court meets at noon. Net earnings of Pennsylvania system in January, decrease $1,057,000. Maryland Steel companies to resume operations today after shut-down of over three months. Again reported that Count Von Bernstorff is to be recalled. German budget estimates at $2,510,000,000 for war. Standard Oil company of California, net profits for year ended December 31, $10,058,338, equal to 20.24 per cent on capital stock. Reported that General Dupont, president of the DuPont Powder company, has sold his holdings in that company to a syndicate. Spain to float $200,000,000 loan to meet budget deficit. No extra senate session. Italy puts embargo on oil. London willing to let gold flow to New York as low exchange aids selling of United States securities. Full crew report favored in New Jersey. Copper and zinc mines in Mexico resume operations.

Liggett & Meyers declared regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ on preferred.

Texas company declared regular quarterly dividend of 2½.

Sears-Roebuck declared regular puarterly dividend of 1¾.

Michigan has granted a 5 per cent increase in freight rates asked for two years ago.

J. S. Bache & Co. say: The stock market is expected to show steady improvement, and greater activity in specialties will be seen during the week.

GRAIN GOSSIP

Chicago Herald says: The world's wheat situation becomes more interesting as the season advances. There is the prospective of opening of the Dardanelles and a release of the Russian wheat for the allied nations, but how much will come out local traders are unable to discover. There are large world's requirements to be supplied, war or no war. All indications point to an exhaustion of all countries before another crop is harvested and a demand for all grains that can be supplied at good prices this year.

Export sales Saturday of wheat reported as high as 1,000,000 bushels, and 800,000 bushels of corn.

Logan & Bryan say: Upturns Saturday eliminated considerable of the local short interests. Buying helped somewhat by moderately bullish news from the Argentine. Progress in forcing the Dardanelles surprising the world and even with a remote chance of Russian wheat supplies for Europe the effect is bearish.

Corn—Advices indicates more liberal offerings of corn by the country in some sections. The recovery in prices Saturday was natural after a decline of 10 cents or more. Think hard spots suggests sales.

Oats—With all the large export business reported there is no material decrease in stocks. The trade has a load to carry, second only to that in corn.

The progress of the allied fleet in the Dardanelles was the absorbing topic before the opening and heavy selling from all quarters in wheat, corn and oats was in evidence, due to this factor.

King, of Toledo, reports Oklahoma wheat conditions 83 versus 79 in February, and 96 last March.

Since data for present reports was compiled there have been beneficial rains in Oklahoma. Area of oats shows an increase of 40 per cent.

Premier Asquith announced the British government has decided to prevent commodities of any kind reaching Germany or leaving that country. This means no foodstuffs of any kind will be allowed to reach Germany. Embargo also includes raw material.

The last declaration of the British government placing cotton on the contraband list will likely induce considerable liquidation by exporters holding contracts with Germany.

His Wife Wasn't Qualified

(National Food Magazine.)

"I've been reading an article on electricity, John," said the wife as she laid down a copy of a technical magazine which she had been perusing. "And it appears before long we'll be able to get pretty nearly everything we want just by touching a button."

"It will never pay here," growled the husband. "You would never be able to get anything in that way."

"Why not, John?"

"Because nothing on earth would ever make you touch a button. Look at my shirt!"

SENSATIONAL DECLINE IN WHEAT PRICES AT CHICAGO

Wheat Closed 5 3-4 to 6 5-8 Cents Down--Corn, Oats, Pork, Lard, Sides Lower

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, March 1.—Wheat made a sensational downward plunge today as a result of news that fifteen miles of the Dardanelles already had been forced, and that apparently the release of vast stores of Russian grain was only a question of a short time. Opening quotations were 2½ to 5½ under Saturday night but the market steadied afterwardd about 3¼ lower than Saturday's final figures.

Later the acute weakness of wheat returned, owing to word that one of the strongest forts defending the straits had been silenced. The close was excited at 5¾c to 6⅝c under Saturday night.

Corn went sharply lower, affected by the weakness of wheat. Opened ¾ to ⅝@1c lower, then suffered a material further setback and then made a good rally.

Meagerness of rural offerings to arrive failed to prevent a fresh sympathetic downturn in corn, and it closed heavy, 2⅝@2½c to 2⅝@2¾c net lower.

Oats paralleled corn.

Provisions tumbled with grain.

GRAIN MARKET OPINIONS

Ware & Leland: Prices will be affected by immediate European developments, but the continued export purchases offered some assurance. Corn and oats a purchase on recessions.

Chapin & Co.: Crop scares are to be expected, and, with marke twell liquidated, believe in purchases now on breaks.

Walter Fitch: The shipping situation is badly mixed, and prices are largely contingent upon developments in Europe.

King Farnum: Believe that conditions now favor the bulls, and wheat should be bought on all setbacks.

Bartlett, Frazier & Co.: Weak holders out, and foreign cash situation apparently strong as ever. Corn: There was a good deal of reinstating of corn sold on the break.

Lamson Bros. & Co.: All markets reported demand greater than the supply. No attention paid to bombarding the Dardenelles, and Europe expected little prospect of securing supplies from this source.

YOUR MONEY

Industrial Chemistry and the Shrewd Promoter.

BY JOHN M. OSKISON

Already American industrial chemists have worked out wonderful economies, highly profitable new processes, and the shutting off by the war of many products and ingredients our manufacurers have been getting from Europe will stimulate our chemists anew.

Along with the genuine discoveries will come a new awakening among the fakers. Let me illustrate by reference to a recent article in the Northwestern Miller, a trade paper of excellent standing.

Recently the experts employed by that paper analyzed a substance advertised as the baker's panacea—something that would keep bread moist. The company putting this substance out was selling the right to use it in restricted localities for from $3,000 to $5,000. It surely ought to be a valuable thing!

Now the paper's chemists made their report, and the Northwestern Miller said:

"What do you suppose this wonderful substance was? A certain starch, gelatinized. Intrinsically it was worth about 2 cents a pound. The idea of preserving moistness in bread by the use of gelatinized starch is as old as any one feature of breadmaking."

Stimulated by the financial success of the company selling this ancient secret, others are preparing to sell something to the credulous bakers. "Even now," says the paper, "we hear rumors of various devices for increasing the moisture content of bread."

You and I as owners of spare cash will no doubt be offered the opportunity to buy stock in many companies organized to exploit new industrial processes. One thing is certain, however: Few of us will get a chance to put money into the meritorious projects.

The public cannot fairly be asked to finance experiments in industrial chemistry; the rewards of such experimentation are too problematical. Nor can the public expect to share in the profits of success. It is a safe inference that there's something wrong with the company which offers to let us in on such profits.

The Real Estate Field

March Makes a Good Start on First Day of Month in Value of Building Permits, the Latter Aggregating About $15,000 During the Morning--Activity of Salaried Man and Small Parcels Is Noted by Agent

March started off briskly enough as far as building was concerned, although there were no general real estate announcements during the morning.

The value of building permits Monday morning aggregated $15,000, which is a good average business. These permits were for dwellings and a few alteration jobs of considerable size.

SALARIED MEN BUYING.

S. B. Turman says that the activity of the salaried man is noticeable just now, and that he is picking up small parcels in the way of lots and investments. He realizes that now is the time to buy.

Mr. Turman said that a good deal of suburban property was being sold to buyers of this type, and that they were picking up small lots.

"Owners are willing to give liberal terms at no advance in price," Mr. Turman said, "and the small buyers are quick to take advantage of the situation."

COUNT VON BERNSTORFF WILL REMAIN AT POST

Dr. Dernberg Denies Story Ambassador Is to Be Recalled

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Dr. Berthard Dernberg, former German colonial minister, declared untrue today a report that Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States, would be recalled and succeeded by Baron Treutler, said to be with Emperor William now at the battle front.

"The report is part of a deliberate attempt of English agents to discredit prominent Germans in America," Dr. Dernberg said. The report stated that Dr. Dernberg was believed to be the German emperor's personal representative in America, and it was thought he had reported to Berlin concerning the state of feeling here and the course pursued by Count von Bernstorff in the discharge of his official duties.

CHURCH SERVICES HELD BUT PIANO IS SILENT

KOKOMO, Ind., March 1.—Services were held yesterday in the Walnut Grove Christian church when James McKillip, who procured a shotgun and took possession of the building two weeks ago, allowed the congregation to worship without molestation. McKillip took possession because a piano was installed in the church. McKillip's father gave the property to the congregation twenty years ago, but stipulated in the deed that no musical instruments were to be used in the building. The piano was silent yesterday.

NEW HAVEN DIRECTORS PLEAD "NOT GUILTY"

NEW YORK, March 1.—Tentative pleas of not guilty were entered in federal court today to superseding indictments handed down last Friday, charging twenty-one directors and former directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company with criminal conspiracy under the anti-trust law.

AMERICAN STEAMER DACIA TOWED INTO BREST HARBOR

Owner of Vessel Not Officially Notified of Its Seizure

(By Associated Press.)

BREST, March 1.—(Via Paris.)—The American steamer Dacia, seized last week by a French cruiser and brought into this port, has been towed from the roadstead into the Brest naval harbor.

Owner of Dacia Says He Expects Protection of U. S.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Official notification of the seizure by the French government of the steamship Dacia, formerly of the Hamburg-American line, has not been received by E. N. Breitung, new owner of the vessel. In a statement published here today Mr. Breitung said that "I know our government will, if necessary, ask for reparation due to any American citizen acting within his rights." Continuing, the statement says:

"I know of no correct statement of international law that can be invoked against the Dacia, and I purpose to demand my rights.

"The American government would not have granted this vessel the right to fly the Stars and Stripes if it had not meant that it would be recognized and respected by every foreign power. The Dacia is as much an American vessel as our laws can make her and I expect her to sail from foreign ports once more for our shores, flying the American flag.

"I have no interest in the cargo of the Dacia. The vessel is insured in England, through private insurance companies. I have recently purchased an English vessel and I am now in the market for two more. I don't care whether they are French or German."

GASOLINE CAN NOW BE MADE FROM CHEAP OILS

New Process Will Greatly Reduce the Cost of Production

NEW YORK, March 1.—Dr. Walter F. Rittman, whose discovery of a new process for deriving gasoline, benzol and toluol from petroleum, as announced by Secretary of the Interior Lane, at Washington, last night, lives in this city. In speaking of the discovery today, Dr. Rittman said:

"I do not claim to have cheapened the process of producing benzol or toluol, nor for that matter do I claim to have lessened the cost of deriving gasoline from petroleum. My process makes it possible, though, to get gasoline from cheaper oils—for example, the California oils—and in this way the cost is lessened."

Dr. Rittman is only thirty-two years old and got his Ph. D. from Columbia last year. He was born in Sandusky, Ohio, and educated at Ohio Northern college, Swarthmore and finally at Columbia. He has been busy on his work with petroleum products since last summer.

UNIDENTIFIED STEAMER ADRIFT IN ATLANTIC

NEW YORK, March 1.—An unidentified steamship with all propeller blades shorn off, was adrift last week near the middle of the Atlantic, according to the log of the American line steamer New York, in today from Liverpool.

The New York was spoken by wireless last Thursday by the British steamer Milwaukee, from Canadian ports for Liverpool. The Milwaukee advised the New York of the drifting steamer's plight and fixed her location as latitude 41, longitude 45.20. The message gave the name of the steamship as "Tritonian," but maritime records here failed to disclose any such name. According to the wireless the "Tritonian requested a tow and added that except for loss of her propeller blades all was well aboard.

Asa Goodwin, Oldest Man in Alabama, 108, Is Dead of Pneumonia

(By Associated Press.)

BESSEMER, Ala., March. 1.—Asa Goodwin, said to be the oldest man in Alabama, died here yesterday on the eve of his 108th birthday, or pneumonia. Goodwin was born in Georgia in 1807. He has 74 grandchildren, 227 great grandchildren and 15 great-great-grandchildren.

Mr. Goodwin formerly was a noted wild turkey hunter and killed his last turk when 101.

EXPLOSION ON MEXICAN GUNBOAT COSTS 30 LIVES

Carranza's Enemies Said to Have Sent Bomb Disguised As Rice

GALVESTON, Tex., March 1.—Dispatches to the Mexican consulate here today said an explosion on the Mexican gunboat Progresso had resulted in the death of thirty persons, including five women.

The explosion was said to have occurred yesterday morning, while the gunboat was at Progresso. It is said that what purported to be a barrel of rice sent on board was, in reality, a bomb, prepared by enemies of Carranza.

The Mexican consul here has cabled for further information. He is inclined to doubt the report.

WAR SITUATION KEEPS WILSON IN WASHINGTON

Tells Callers He May Have to Give Up Frisco Trip

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—President Wilson declared today the European situation was demanding so much of his attention that he was doubtful if he would be able to leave Washington this spring, even, possibly, to make his proposed visit to the San Francisco exposition.

"I am tied here by the legs," was the way his callers said the president expressed the situation.

He told a committee which invited him to attend the Southern conference for education and industry in Chattanooga in April that he would do so if he found it possible to get away. He wants to attend the Southern Commercial congress which meets about the same time in Muskogee, Okla., and said if he was able to make that trip he would stop at Chattanooga en route.

The invitation today was presented by Senators Lea and Shields of Tennessee, Camden of Kentucky and Simmons and Overman of North Carolina; Representative Aswell of Louisiana and J. Y. Joyner, president of the conference. A written invitation from the governor of Tennessee and other state officials also was presented.

STEAMSHIP IS SUSPENDED FROM AMERICAN REGISTRY

Owner of M. S. Dollar Knows of No Reason, Unless Papers Were Irregular

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Robert Dollar, president of the Robert Dollar company, owner of the M. S. Dollar, the steamship suspended from American registry, according to announcement of the department of commerce, said today he knew of no reason for the suspension, unless there was some irregularity in drawing up the vessel's papers.

"The steamer was admitted to American registry at Port Arthur, Tex., about two weeks ago," said Mr. Dollar, "and passed through the canal on her way to Japan, with a cargo of coal oil a week ago. The ship will call at Honolulu. She cannot be suspended from registry until the papers are taken up. Unless this is done at Honolulu, she will proceed."

Another steamship of the company, the Robert Dollar, recently admitted to American registry, is now en route here from the Orient.

The M. S. Dollar is a vessel of 6,400 tons.
